Introduction

In 2016, the O'Callahan Society, in support of the Naval ROTC Unit at the College of the Holy Cross, published a history of the Unit which included statistics on the Navy and Marine Corps officers commissioned through the Unit since 1944. These statistics were largely based on a 2004 annual report submitted by the Unit (on file in the Navy Archives in Washington D. C.) and that report, in turn, built on a previous report that was prepared in 1990. These reports were combined with information from other Unit annual reports in the Navy Archives and from binders prepared by Commander John Bishop, USN (Retired), the Unit's Executive Officer, Acting Commanding Officer, and civilian Administrative Officer from 2006 through 2017.

Although the 2004 and 1990 reports became the reference documents for the O'Callahan Society statistics, some inaccuracies became evident, particularly with the mixing of NROTC Marine Option students and Platoon Leaders Class (PLC) Marine students. In early 2017, it was learned that the 2004 report had inadvertently left out the second Holy Cross NROTC class which was commissioned in March, 1945. At that point, the O'Callahan Society determined to update the 2004 list and correct the discrepancies which had been identified.

In addition to re-examining the surviving Unit annual reports (1945-47, 1966-99, 2001-11, and 2014) and the Unit binders, the following resources were used:

- Holy Cross College Archives: commencement and commissioning programs, newspaper articles, news releases, photos, and other papers pertaining to officer commissionings.
- CrossWorks: Holy Cross website with some college yearbooks, alumni magazines (1998-2017), and college catalogs. From the 1940s through 1970, the catalogs included the previous year's graduates and commissioned officers. The catalog name lists usually corresponded to the commencement programs but there were occasional differences.
- NROTC Unit Yearbooks (Knight Watch): some are available at the Unit.
- Ancestry.com: hosts Military Registers (1951-85 at 4-5-year intervals), Marine Corps muster rolls through 1958, World War II Navy muster rolls, and many Holy Cross yearbooks not available on CrossWorks.
- Phone conversations and e-mail exchanges with the individuals concerned.

More than 180 individual cases of conflicting or incomplete information, the military status of all 249 members of the Class of 1947, and the distinction between 298 NROTC and PLC Second Lieutenants 1950-69 were resolved with these methods and these resolutions are detailed in Appendix B. One byproduct of the 2017 research was a realization that the Unit recently reached the milestone of 100 women commissioned through the Unit. The names of these women have been extracted to a separate list contained in Appendix A.

Updating and correcting the list of commissioned officers from the Holy Cross NROTC Unit also provided an opportunity to collect additional information on the graduates, although only the alma mater category is complete. The additional information includes:

- Alma maters since the Unit was opened to other colleges and universities in the Worcester area in the 1970s
- Type of commission (regular or reserve). From September 1996 through 2005, all NROTC commissions were Reserve and since 2006, all commissions have been Regular but, before 1996, scholarship students received Regular commissions and Contract or College Program students received Reserve commission.

- Significant facts on individual participation in the Unit such as midshipman battalion commanders and recipients of the O'Callahan Bowl
- Warfare specialties
- Some active duty and Reserve assignments
- Highest rank identified
- Other notable information

As a result of this additional research, the number of Ensigns and Second Lieutenants commissioned through the NROTC Unit is considered to be very accurate although it is conceivable that some individuals may still be identified in the future. Remaining issues:

- October 1945: All College and Unit lists of this commissioning class have 57 names but the annual report explicitly stated that only 54 were commissioned; it is not known who the three men not commissioned were.
- 1947: The annual reports recorded the numbers, but not the names, of the Ensigns and Second Lieutenants commissioned in January and June 1947. No list of the January class has been found and only a newspaper list of the June class exists but it includes three officers who were noted in the annual report as physically disqualified (but not identified). The January class and all but four of the Ensigns in the June class were identified using Military Registers and Marine Corps musters rolls.
- PLC Accessions: over 40% of USMC Second Lieutenants commissioned 1950-69 by Holy Cross were products of the PLC Program but neither Headquarters USMC – Manpower nor USMC Recruiting hold these types of commissioning records. However, the 1955 Military Register has a note for Marines commissioned through the NROTC scholarship program, College yearbooks often included NROTC (and sometimes PLC) among the activities of graduating seniors, and Marine Corps muster rolls 1950-58 have extensive PLC documentation. Only two officers on the 2004 and 1990 lists could not be positively matched to NROTC or PLC (one each in '52 and '54) and the lack of PLC documentation means they were most likely NROTC products.

Associated with this report is a spread sheet that breaks down the commissioning numbers by year and, within each year, by Service and college. It also includes statistics on PLC commissions but this number may be missing some delayed PLC commissions, especially after 1969. Additional columns identify different data sources and the number of Ensigns and Second Lieutenants listed in each data source.

In addition to Commander Bishop, the following assisted in compiling this report:

- Mr. Thomas Cadigan, Holy Cross '02 in the Holy Cross Alumni Office
- Ms. Sarah Campbell, Ms. Hannah Kolesar, Ms. Lisa Villa in the Holy Cross Archives
- Mr. James F. Delehaunty, Holy Cross '67 and Co-Chairman of the O'Callahan Society
- Commander John B. Tata, USN (Retired), WPI '67, and former Unit Executive Officer
- Master Sergeant Alan Jackson, USA (Retired), staff of Worcester State University
- Ensign Bridgid Carey, USN, Holy Cross '17
- Worcester Polytechnic Institute Alumni Office
