COPYRIGHT AND DISTRIBUTION AGREEMENT FORM

STUDENT NAME: William Giancola
TITLE OF THESIS: Tragedy and Transcendence: Tracing Tragedy
From Early Modernity to Present
THESIS ADVISOR (s): Professor Kee
DEPARTMENT: English

This form provides copyright information and distribution options for your honors thesis. By giving your express permission you are agreeing to the following Honors Thesis Copyright and Distribution Agreement.

Copyright: You certify that the honors thesis is your original work and that you have the right to grant the permissions contained within this agreement. You also certify that, to the best of your knowledge, your work does not infringe upon anyone else's copyright, patent rights, trade secrets, or trademarks, nor does it constitute defamation, invasion of privacy, or other rights of any person or entity. Material such as video, images, music, or data sets owned by third parties and included in your work is acknowledged and appropriately cited. When legally required, signed statements have been attached from the owners of any such material, allowing distribution as specified in this form. Furthermore, if your project includes interviews, you have included signed permissions from the interviewees to make their interviews public.

Ownership: You as the author or creator of the honors thesis retain all ownership rights to the copyright of your work. You also retain the right to use all or part of your honors thesis in future works (such as articles, books, websites, etc).

Preservation and Distribution: By submitting your honors thesis you grant to the College of the Holy Cross the non-exclusive right to digitally archive, and if appropriate, make this thesis accessible, via crossworks.holycross.edu, to the College of the Holy Cross community and/or, if you so choose, make it available outside of the college, retrievable through the Internet. You also agree that the College may, without changing the content, convert your digital copy to any medium or format necessary for the purpose of long-term preservation. Responsibility for any copyright infringement of your work, downloaded from CrossWorks.holycross.edu, will fall solely upon the infringing user. You also understand that you may request, in writing, that your work be suppressed from crossworks.holycross.edu. Upon receipt of such a written notice, the College of the Holy Cross will cease and desist from making your work available.

Please read the following distribution options, check the appropriate box, and then confirm that you have reviewed them by filling in your name, email, and date and having your thesis advisor do the same.

The form will be submitted to the College of the Holy Cross Libraries and a digital copy of this form will be included in crossworks.holycross.edu with your honors theses. A copy of the agreement will also be mailed to you and to your thesis advisor.

- 1. Open Access. Your senior honors thesis will be discoverable via Google and other search engines. Open Access serves the scholarly community by sharing your research with others around the world; exemplifying the nature of honors work done at the College of the Holy Cross.
- 2. Restricted for one year; then Open Access. Delay release of the entire work for one year from date of graduation for publication or other proprietary purposes. After one year, release for worldwide Internet access.
- 3. Restricted for two years; then Open Access. Delay release of the entire work for two years from date of graduation for publication or other proprietary purposes. After two years, release for worldwide Internet access.
- 4. Access restricted to on-campus only. Allow access only on the College of the Holy Cross campus via crossworks.holycross.edu.

Keywords. A keyword is a significant or memorable word in a title or abstract of a thesis that helps convey the topic. Please list up to four keywords that you feel best describe your thesis.

"Tragedy" "Transcendence" "Tracing"
