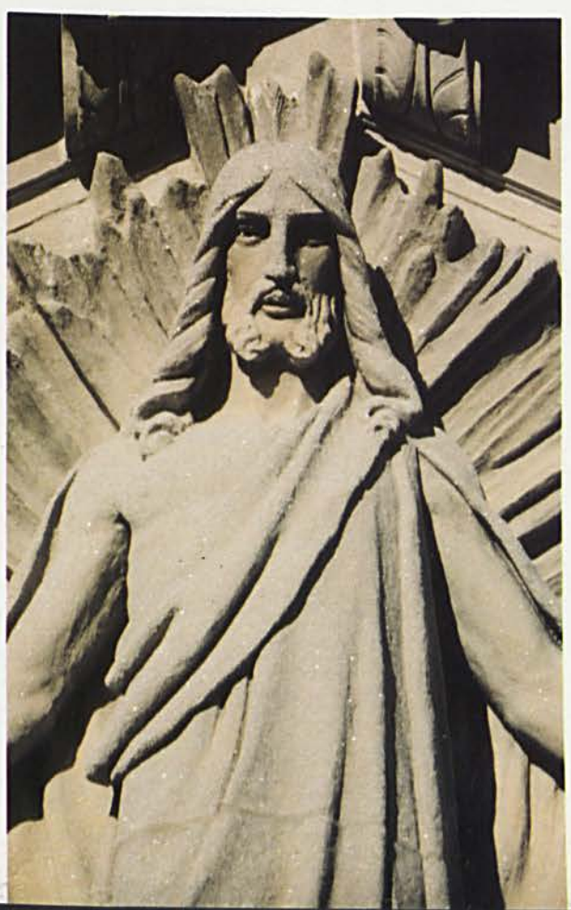
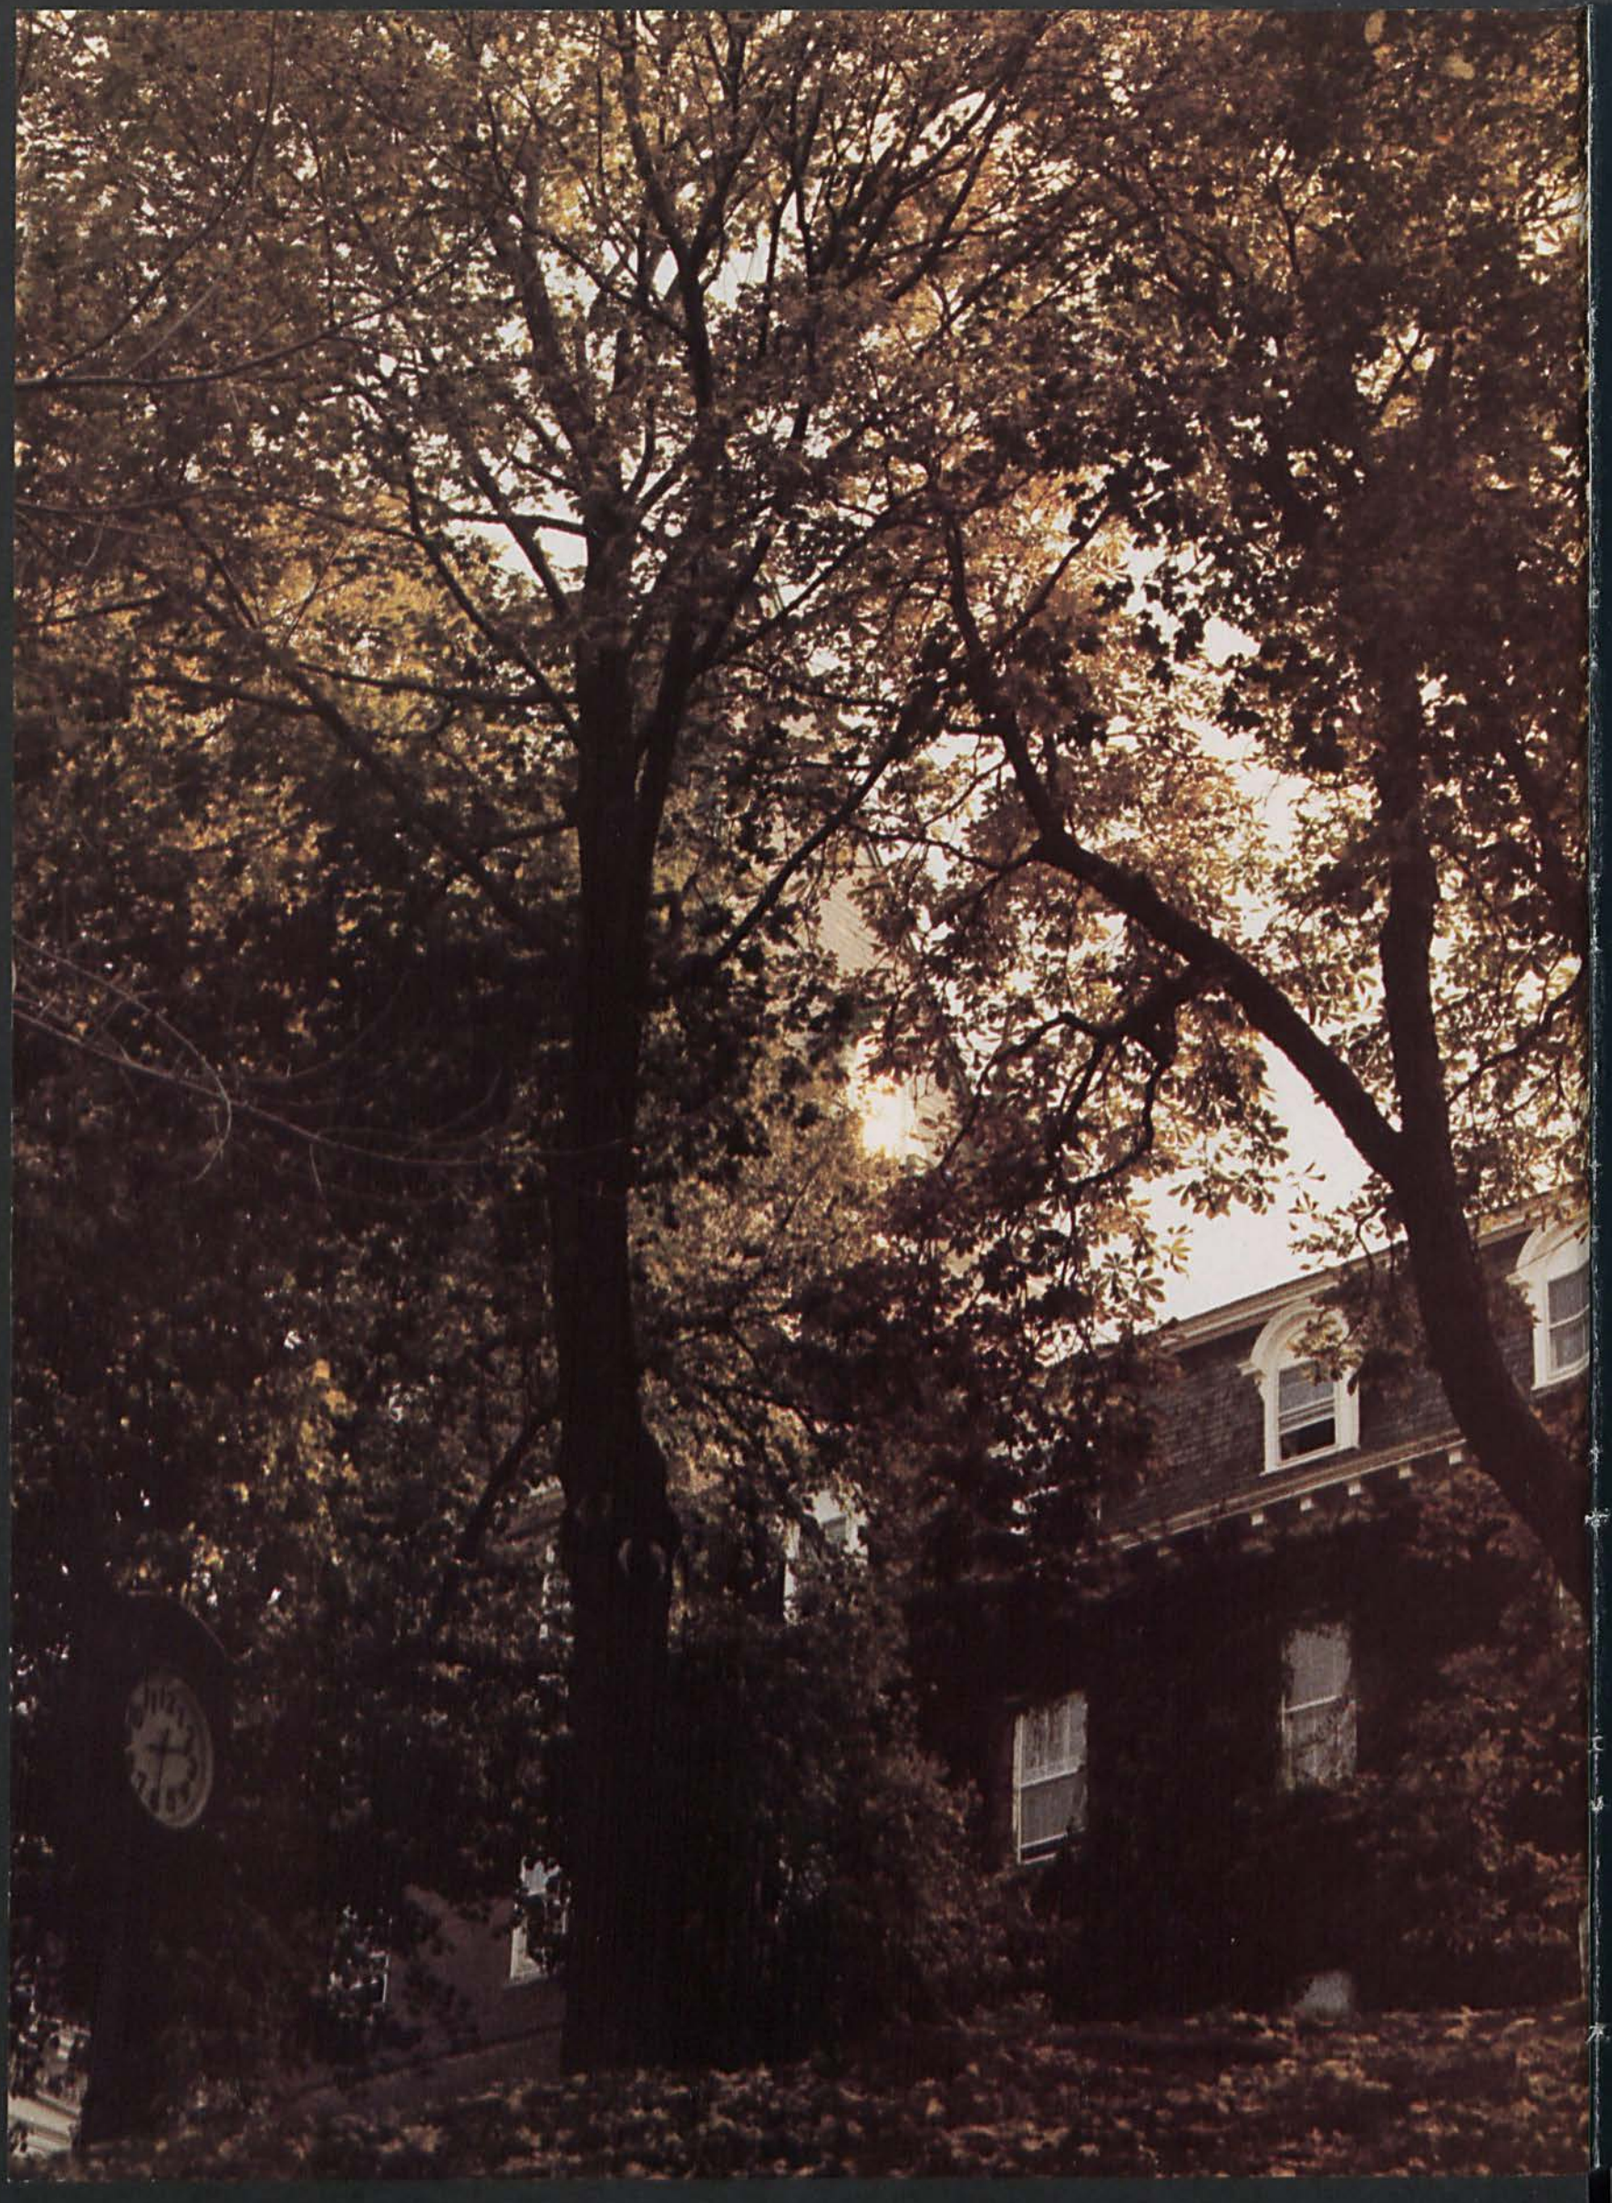
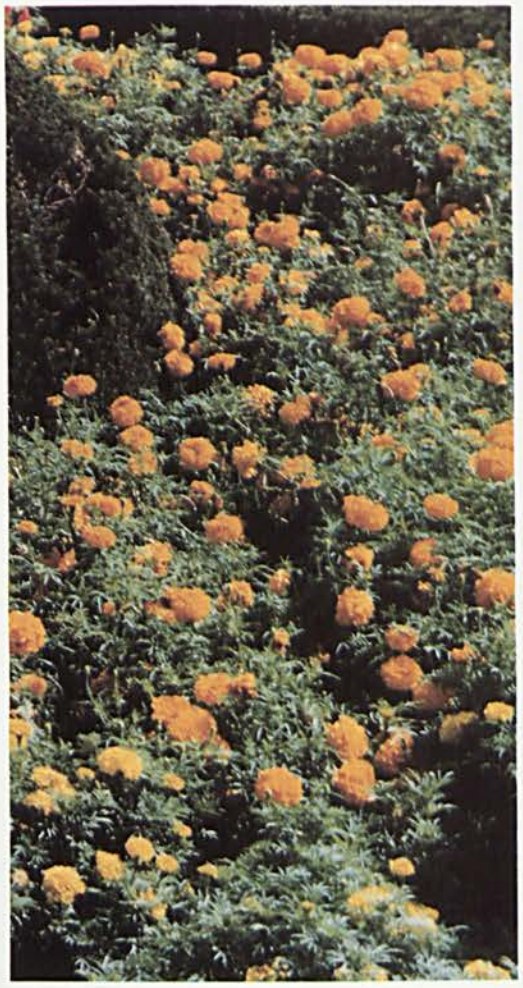
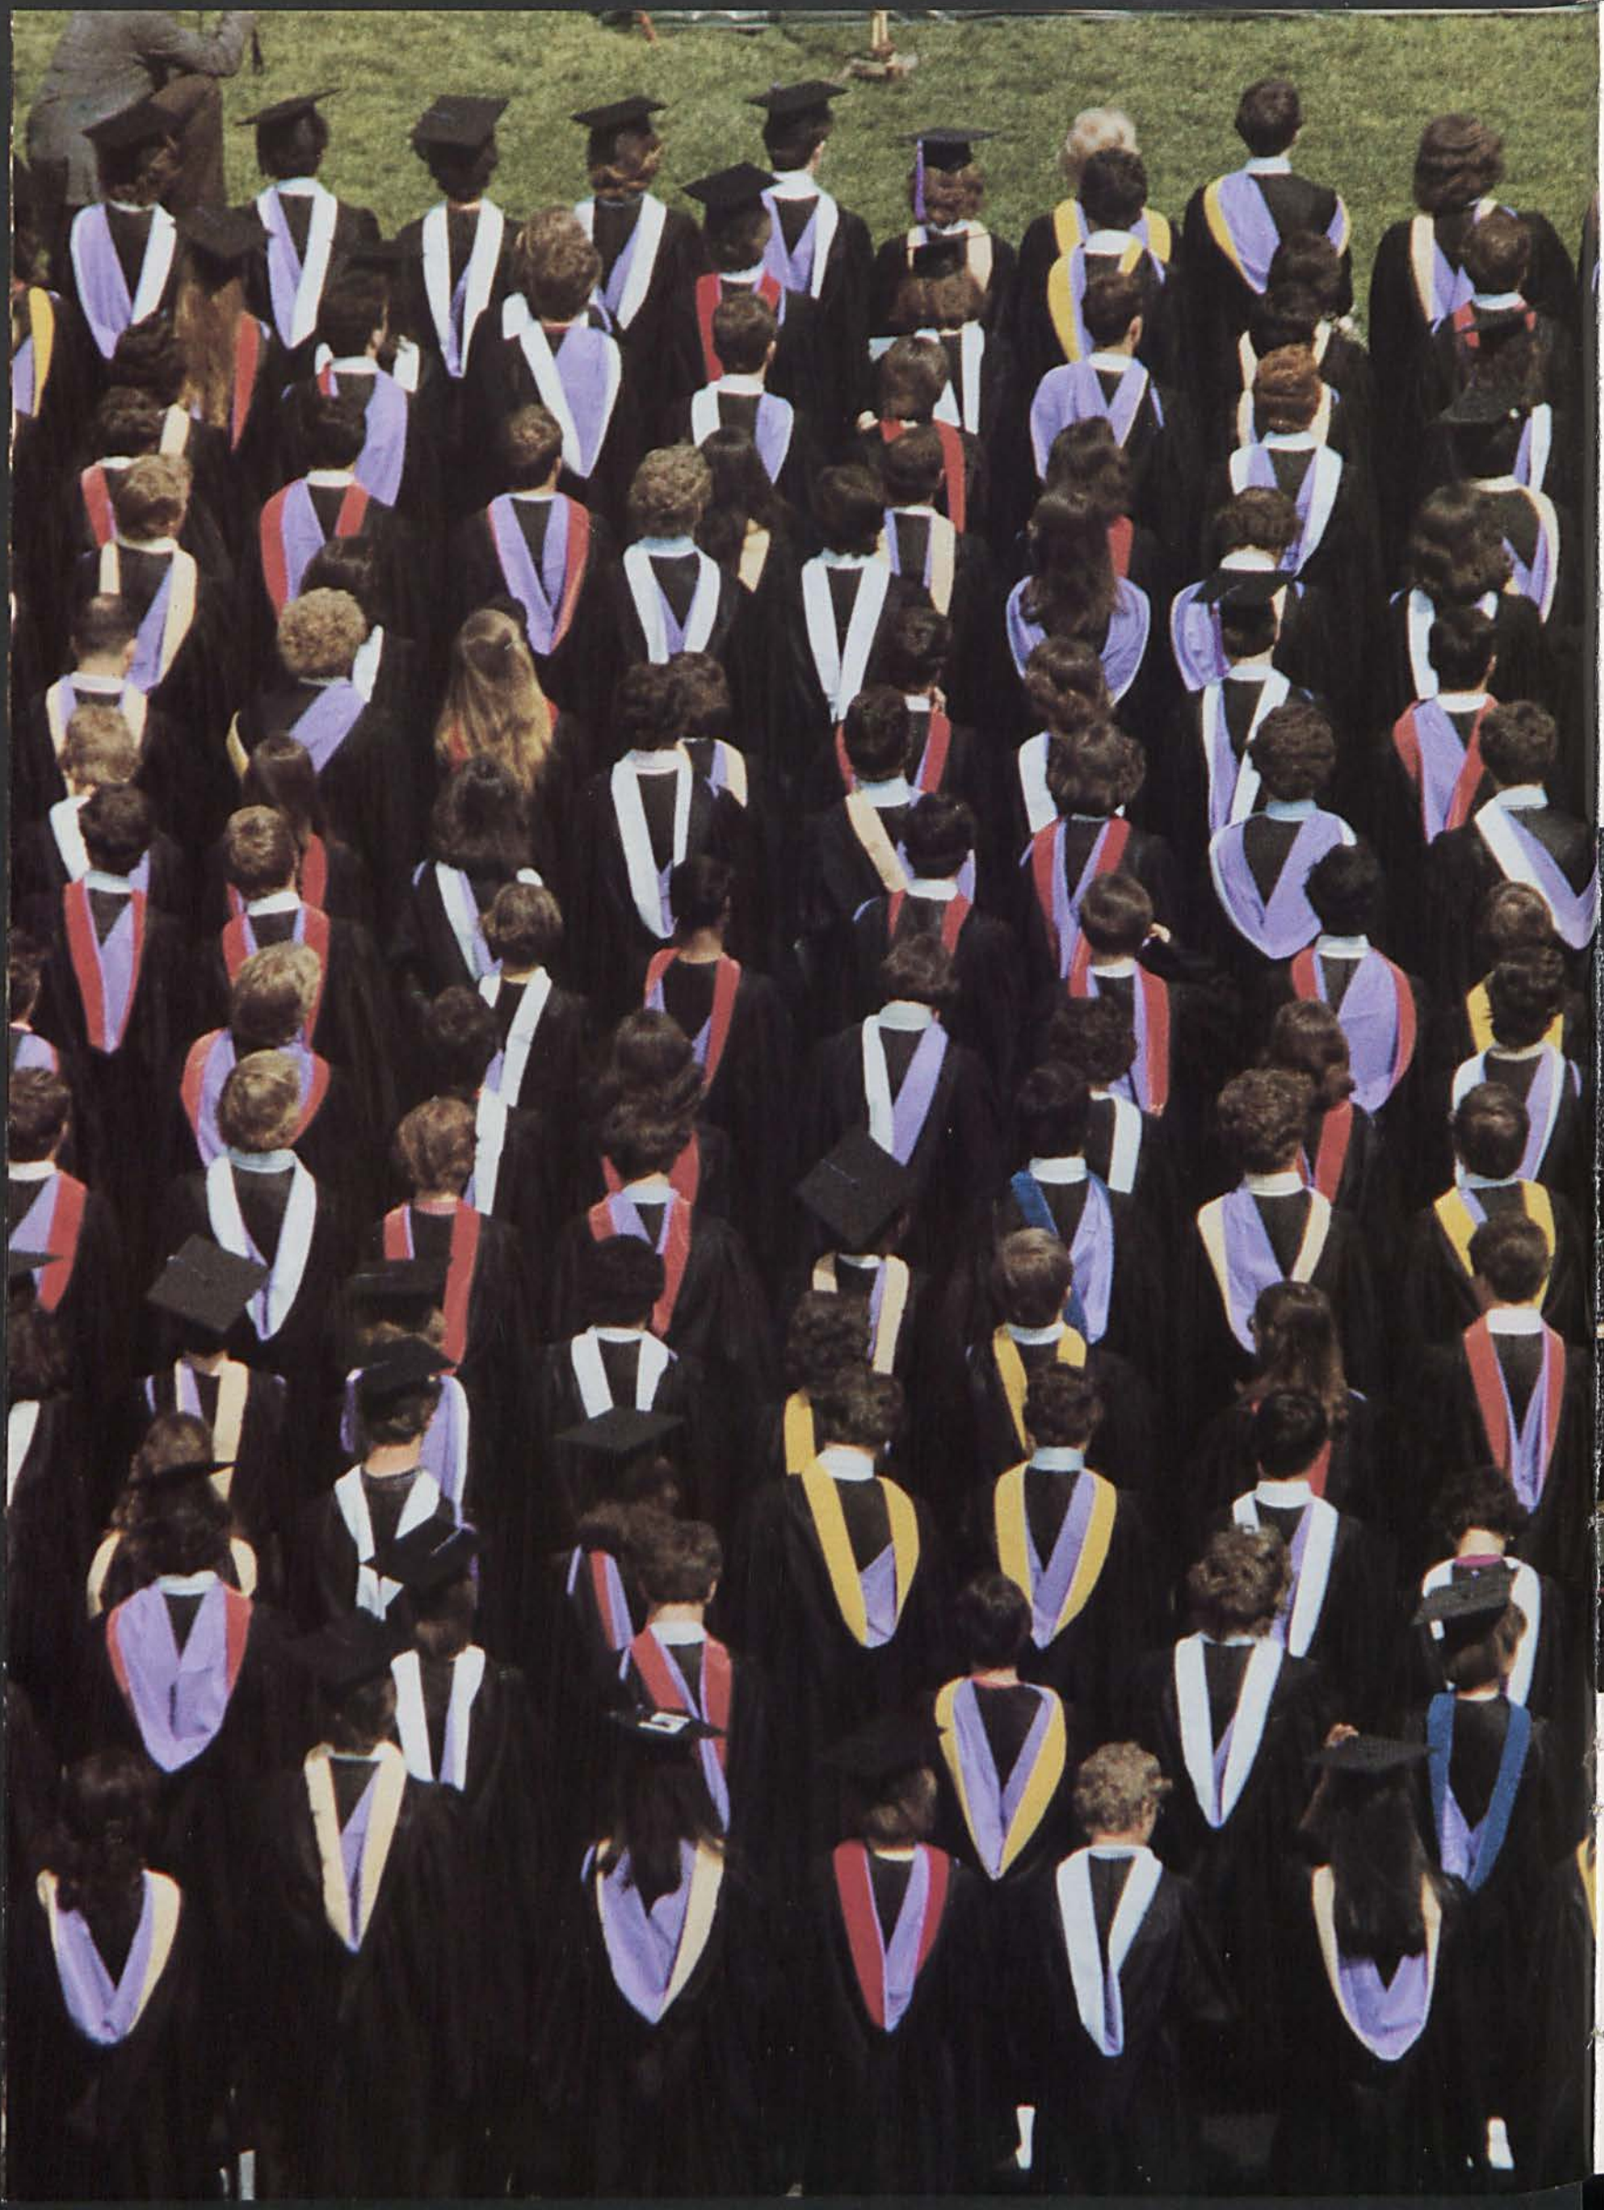
YOU KNOW, IT'S EASY TO REMEMBER WHAT IT LOOKED LIKE. EVERY SEASON HAD ITS OWN FLAVOR, EVERY BUILDING HAD ITS OWN APPEAL. IT SEEMS WE WERE SURROUNDED BY BEAUTY, AN ENDURING, PLANNED ELEGANCE. TRADITION AND WISE OLD AGE RESOUNDED THROUGH THOSE GROUNDS AND HALLS.

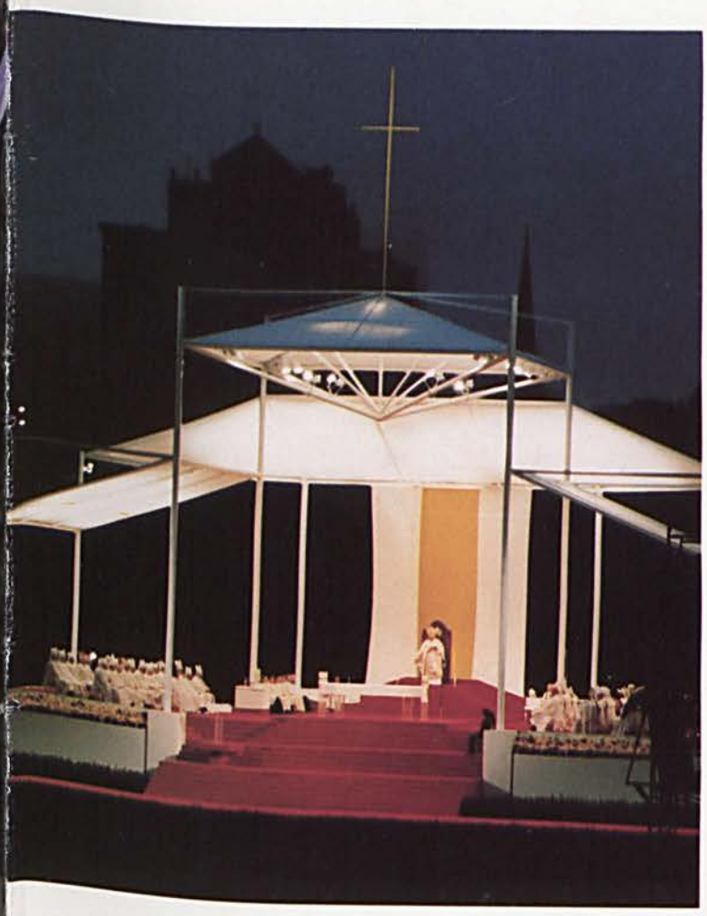




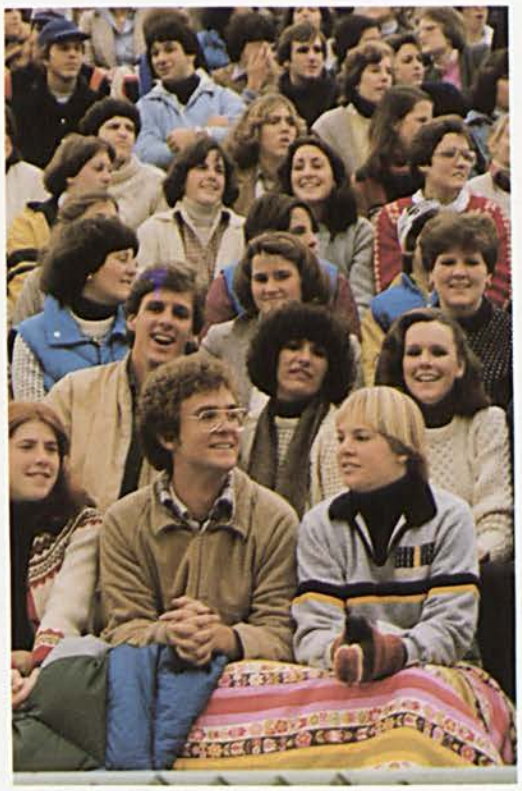


DO YOU RECALL HOW EVERYTHING WAS PAMPERED, PAINSTAKINGLY TENDED? A NATURAL ATMOSPHERE SO PEACEFUL AND PRETTY COULD OFTEN EVOKE A THRILLING FEELING OF REVERENCE, OF AWE. IT COULD ALSO BRING OUT AN EXULTANT SMILE, A DESIRE TO GO JUMP IN THE LEAVES.

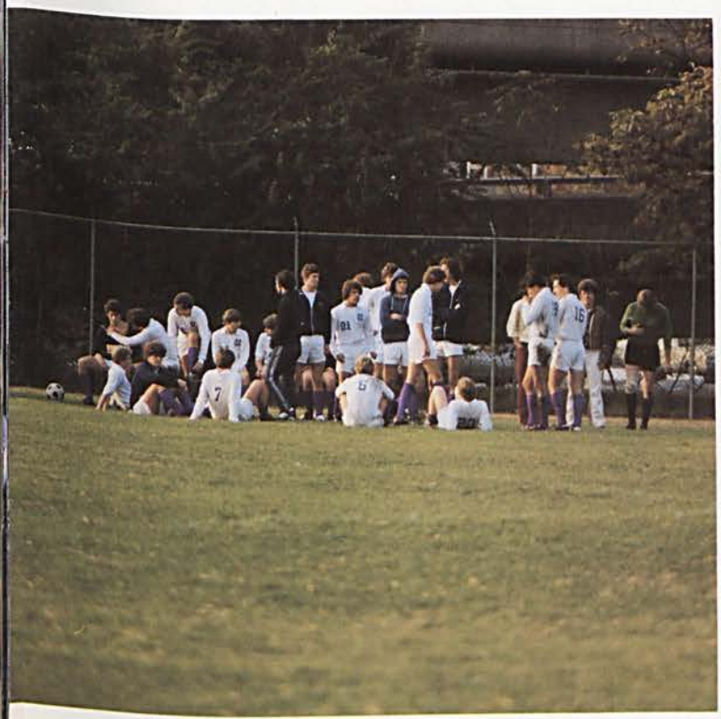


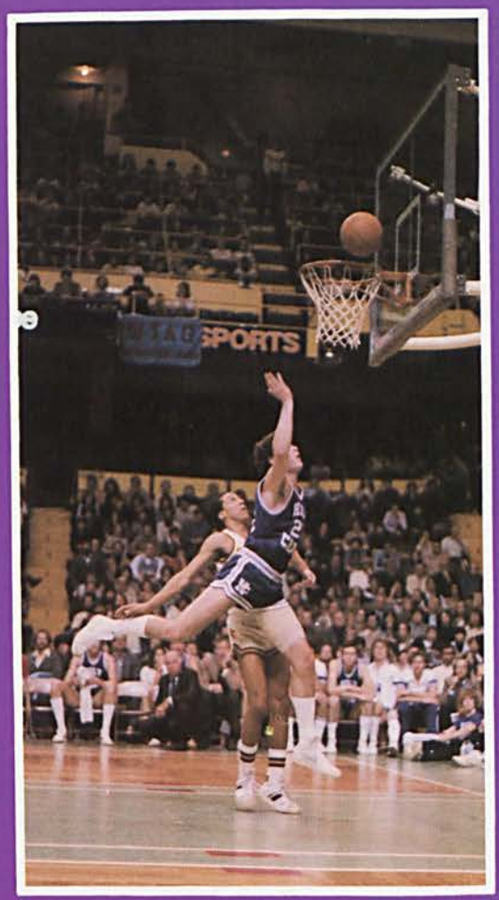


KNOWLEDGE AND LEARNING WERE AMONG OUR GOALS AT COLLEGE. HOW NOBLE WERE OUR AIMS (IF NOT ALWAYS OUR ACCOMPLISHMENTS) AT ACQUIRING SOME FRACTION OF INTELLIGENCE OF WESTERN CULTURE AND SCIENCE. AND ALTHOUGH WE DID LIVE ON AN ISOLATED HILL OF ACADEMIA, WE COULD NOT IGNORE THE REST OF THE TURBULENT, CHANGING WORLD.



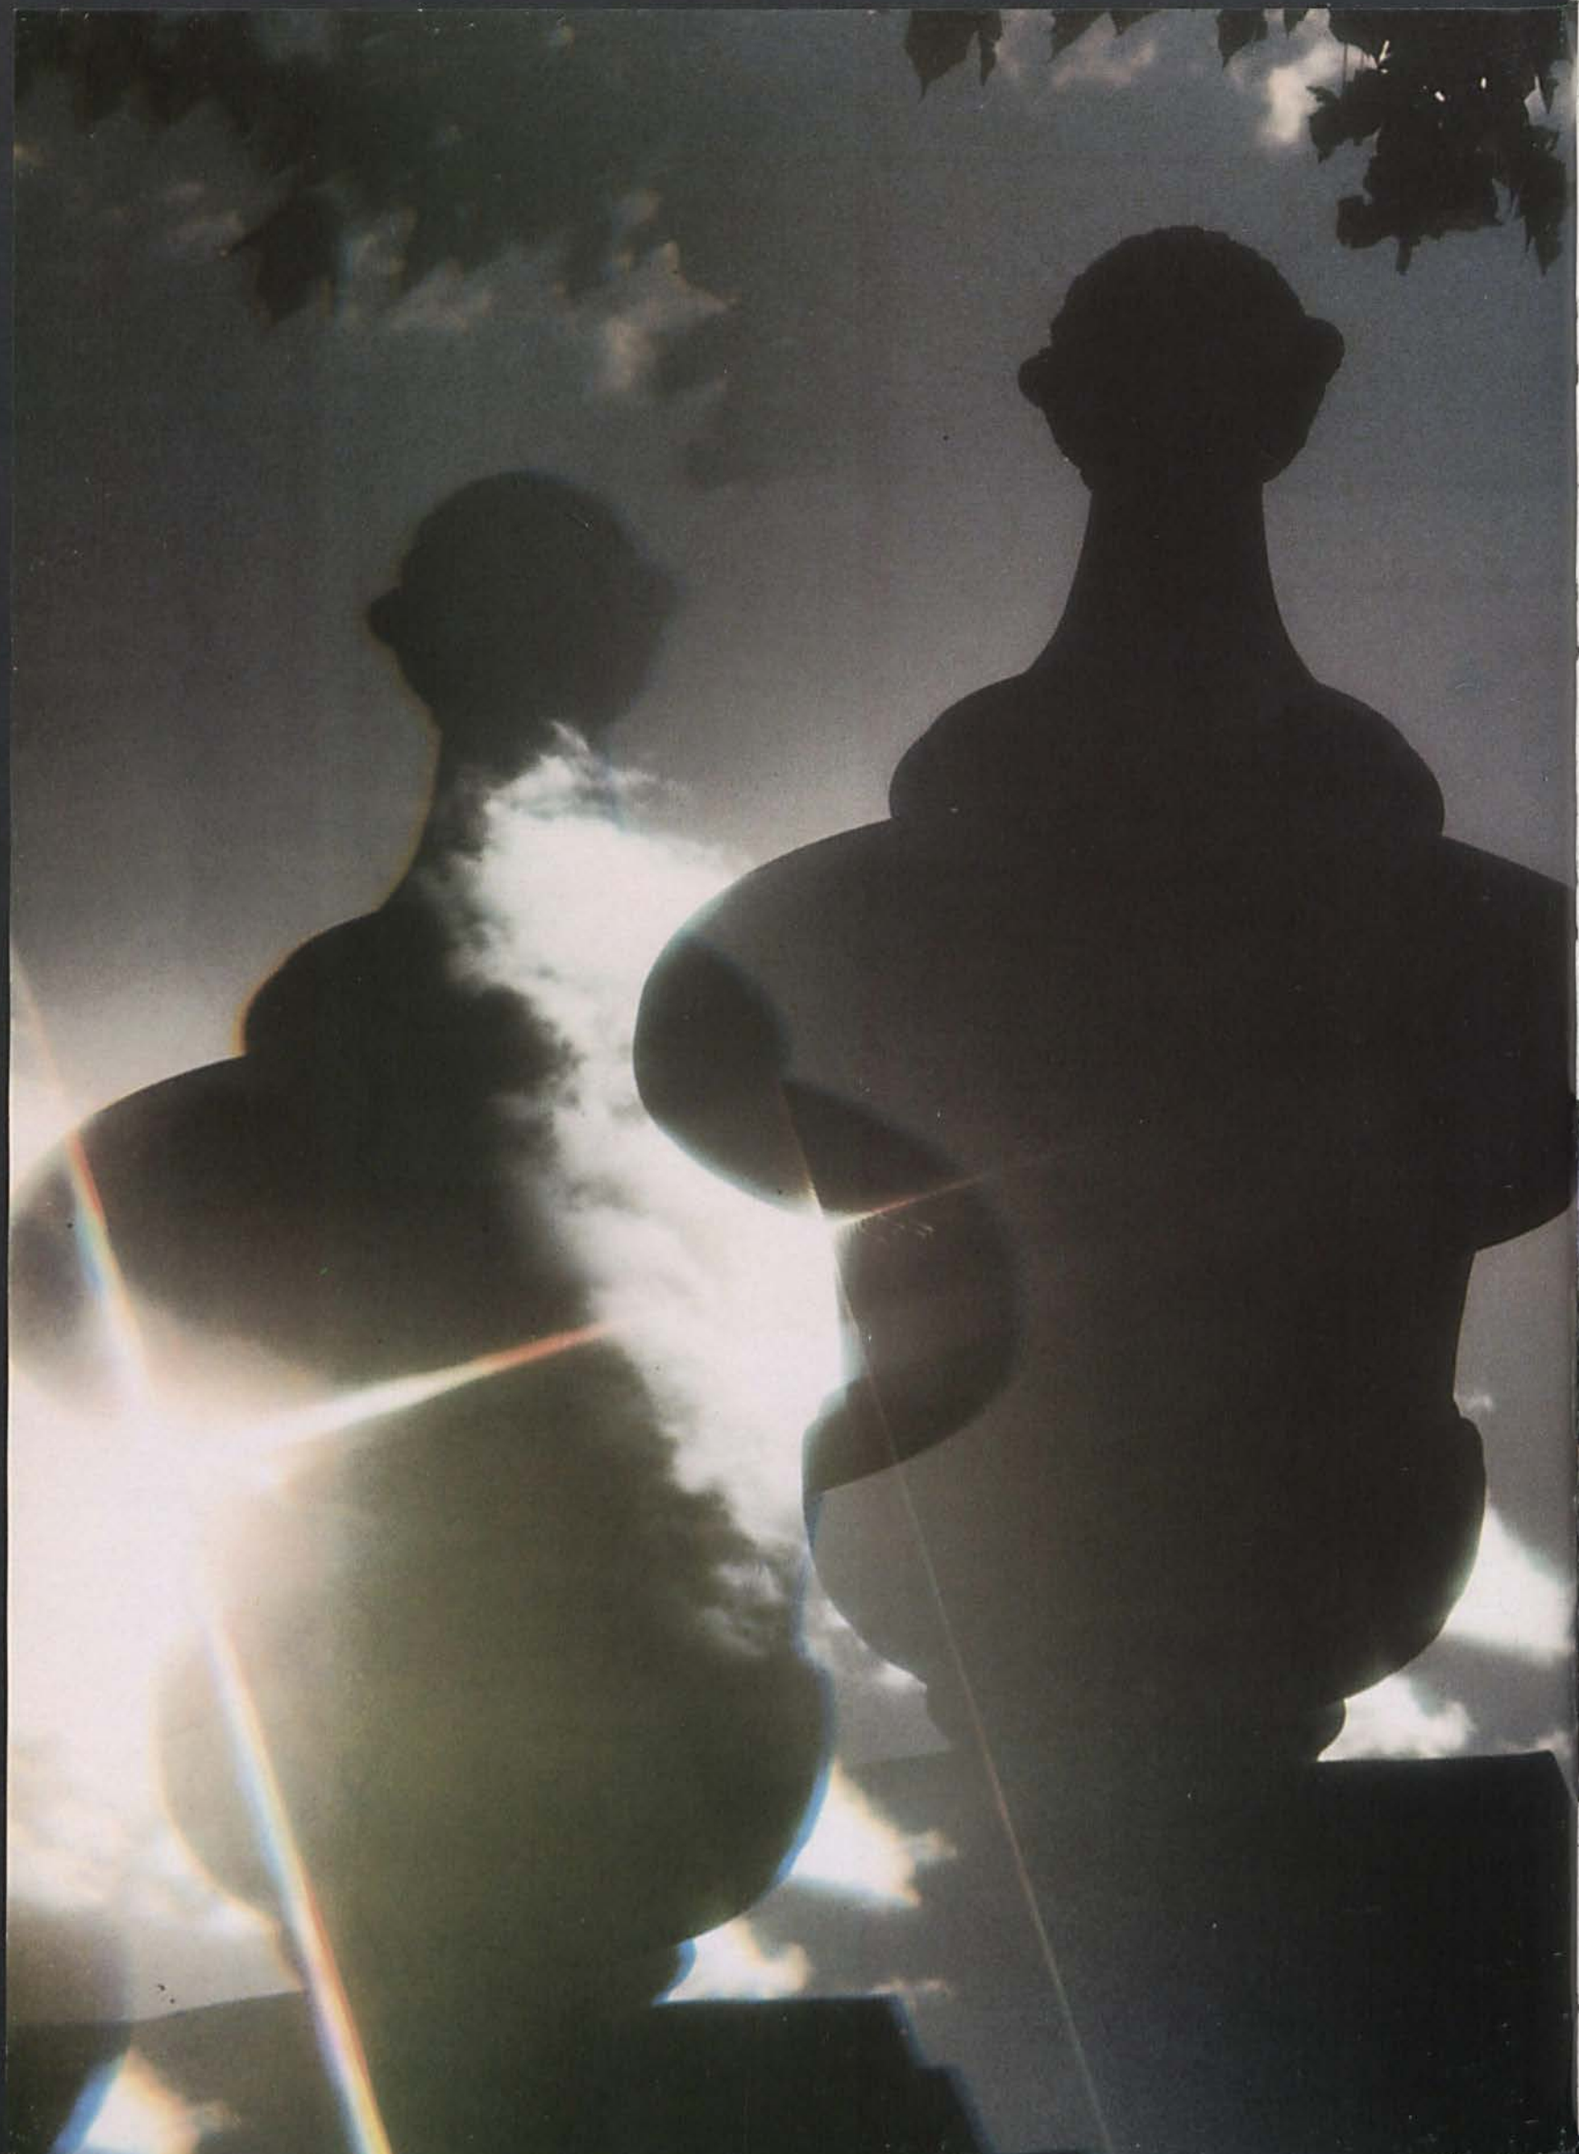
YES, THERE WERE OUR FRIENDS, AND SO MANY OF THEM. THERE WERE COMFORTING TIMES SPENT ONE-ON-ONE WITH A CLOSE COMPANION. THERE WERE ALSO TIMES SPENT WITH MANY PEOPLE, SINGING, JOKING, LAUGHING. WHETHER QUIET OR BOISTEROUS, THESE TIMES WITH FRIENDS WERE GOOD ONES, TEACHING US ABOUT THE IMPORTANCE OF CARING FOR OTHER PEOPLE. WHAT A WARM FEELING IT IS TO THINK OF THOSE FRIENDS, AND HOW WONDERFUL IT WOULD BE TO SEE THEM AGAIN.

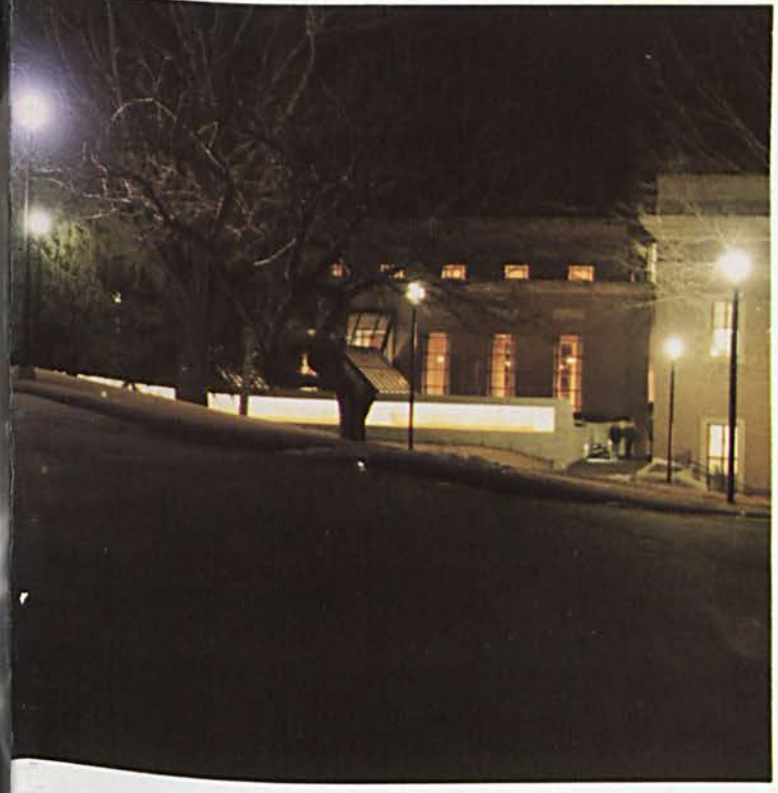




"MENS SANA IN CORPORE SANO." A SOUND MIND IN A SOUND BODY — THAT'S WHAT SPORTS WERE ALL ABOUT. AND WHETHER WE ACTIVELY PARTICIPATED OR JUST WATCHED FROM THE SIDELINES, WE ALL SEEMED TO ENJOY THOSE ORGANIZED ATHLETICS. THERE WAS THE EXCITEMENT OF CHEERING FOR YOUR FAVORITE TEAM OR PLAYER, AND THERE WAS ALSO THAT THRILL OF COMPETITIVE SPIRIT THAT WELLED UP WHEN YOU WERE OUT THERE, PLAYING.

THERE WAS ALWAYS A LOT TO DO — PARTIES, BANQUETS, CONCERTS, DANCES, PLAYS. SOCIAL EVENTS COULD BE CREATED AT A MOMENT'S NOTICE, COMMEMORATING ANY HOLIDAY OR EVENT THAT MIGHT STRIKE OUR FANCY. A FIRST DAY OF SPRING PARTY OR AN IMPROMPTU DANCE CONTEST IN A DORM ROOM. THESE FESTIVITIES COULD ALSO BE PART OF TIME-HONORED TRADITIONS, OCCASIONS MARKED YEAR AFTER YEAR. BUT THESE CELEBRATIONS NEVER LOST THEIR FRESHNESS OR VITALITY, AND WE ENJOYED THEM EACH YEAR ANEW.





WE FINALLY LEFT THAT PLACE, THAT PLACE WHERE WE PASSED FOUR YEARS GROWING AND LEARNING, EXPERIENCING HAPPINESS AND PAIN, WINNING AND LOSING, LAUGHING AND CRYING. BUT ALWAYS LIVING. GOOD NIGHT.

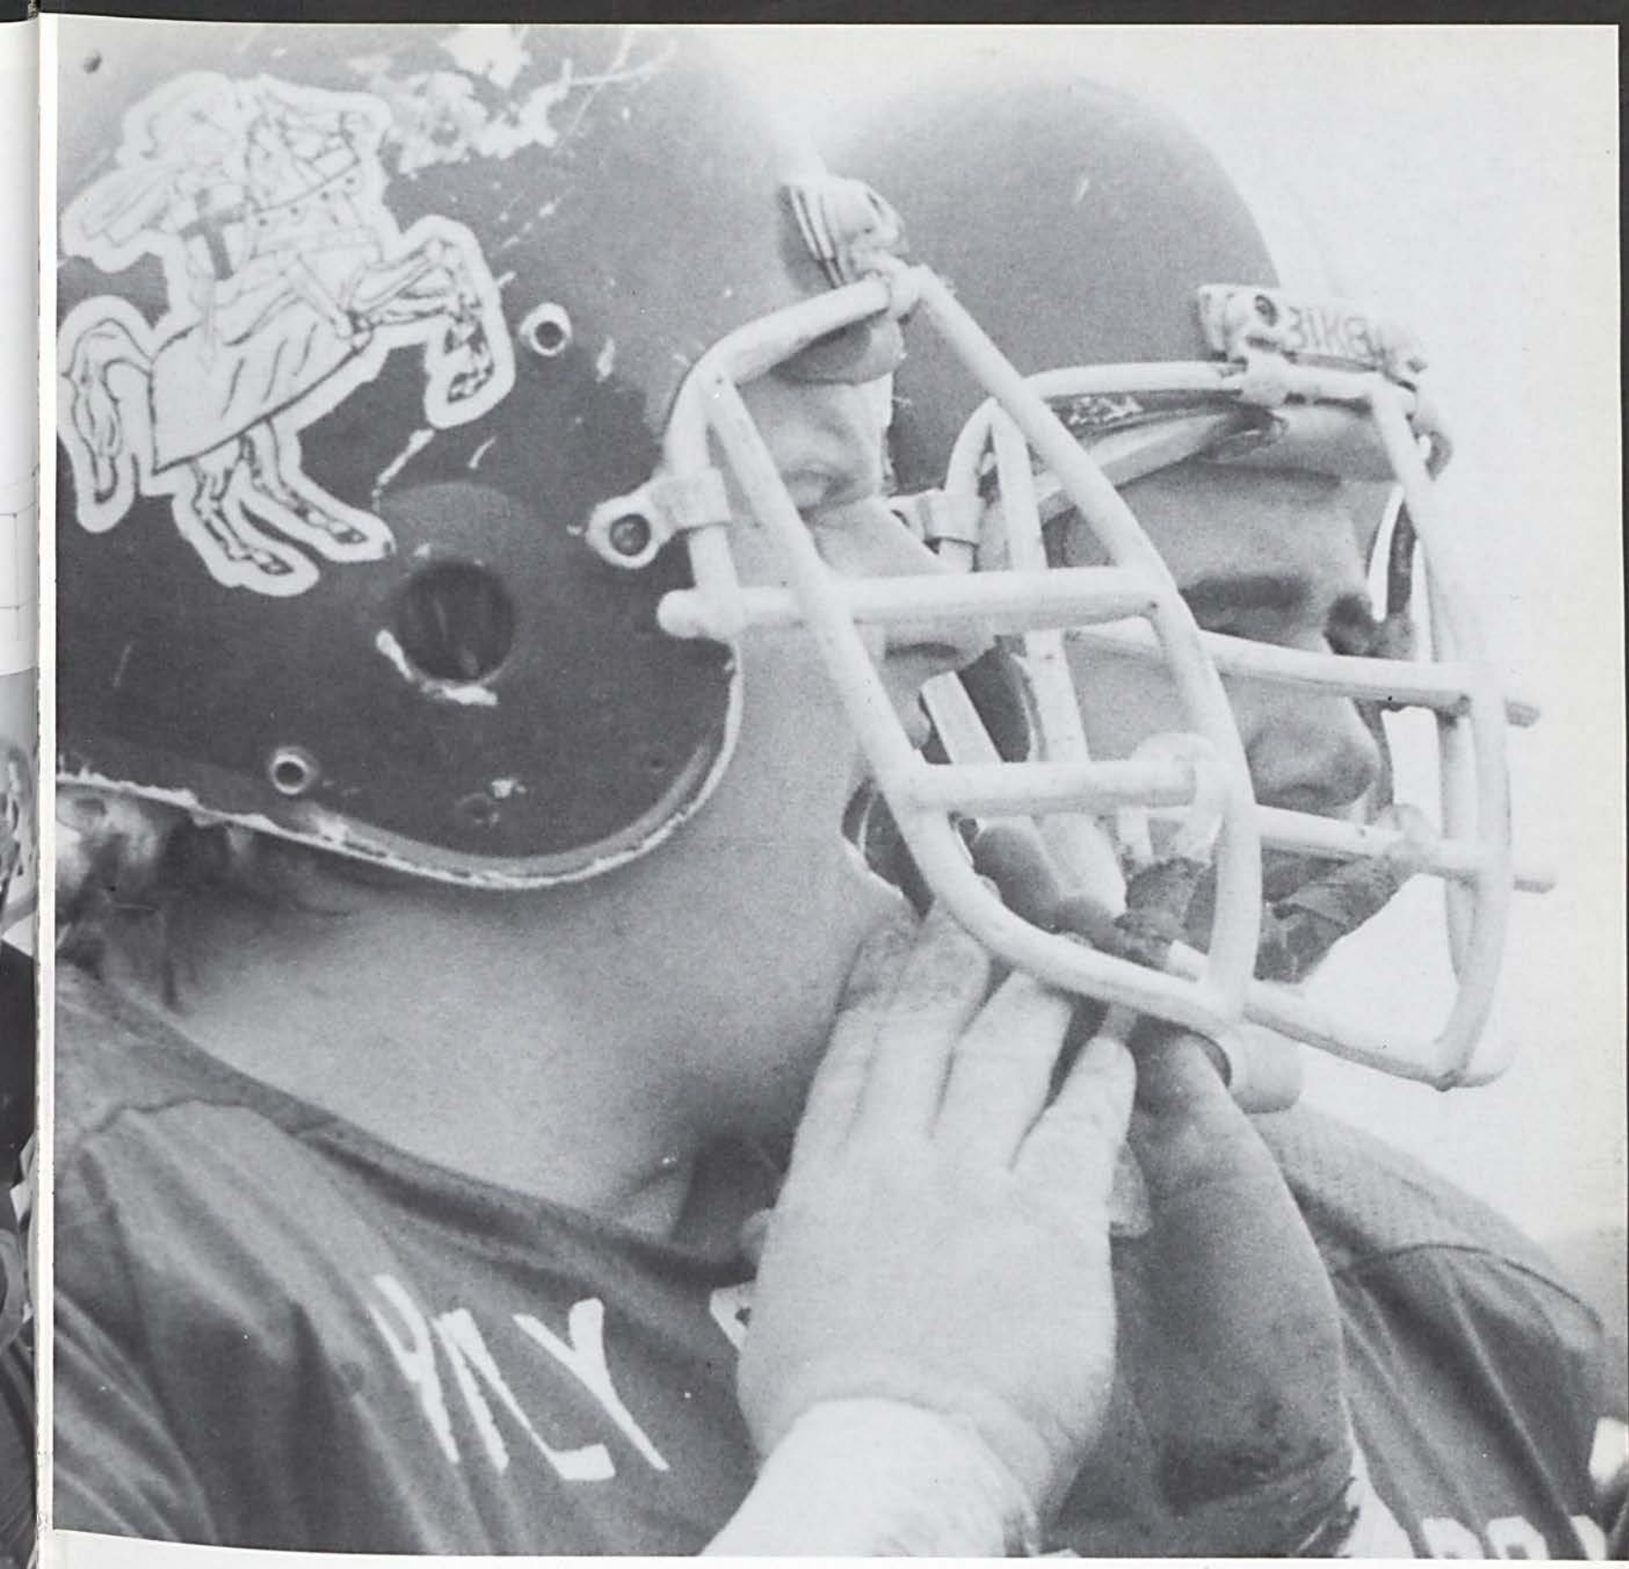
FOOTBALL



With four of their first six games to be played away from home the road looked rough for the football team. It was. The schedule had conspired with some key injuries to get the Cross off to a disappointing 2-4 start. Total disaster seemed no more than a loss away, and with powerful Brown visiting Fitton Field for game seven, disaster seemed even more certain.

It was at this juncture that Head Coach Neil Wheelwright decided to install a lately forgotten strategy: the forward pass. To make good on the plan, he inserted at quarterback a senior who had never before started. Enter Neil Solomon. Exit Brown, a 14-7 loser. With Solomon starting, the team was 3-2 over the last five games, including a narrow defeat at the hands of those miscreants from Chestnut Hill.

WOMEN'S TENNIS

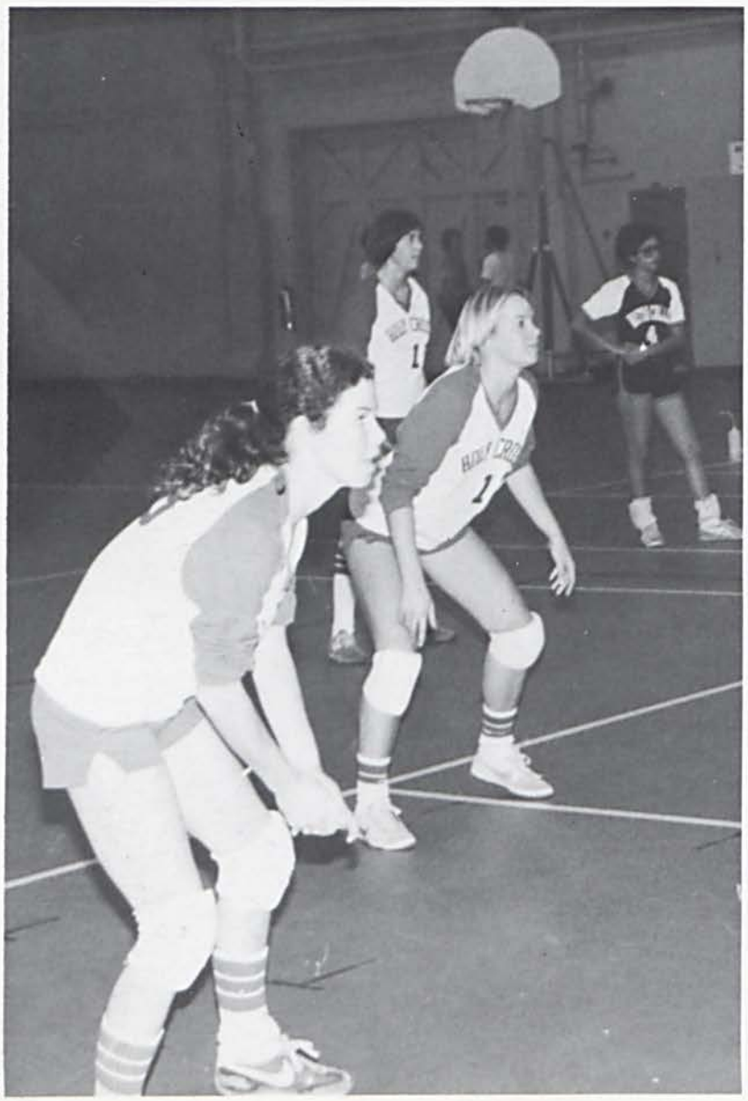
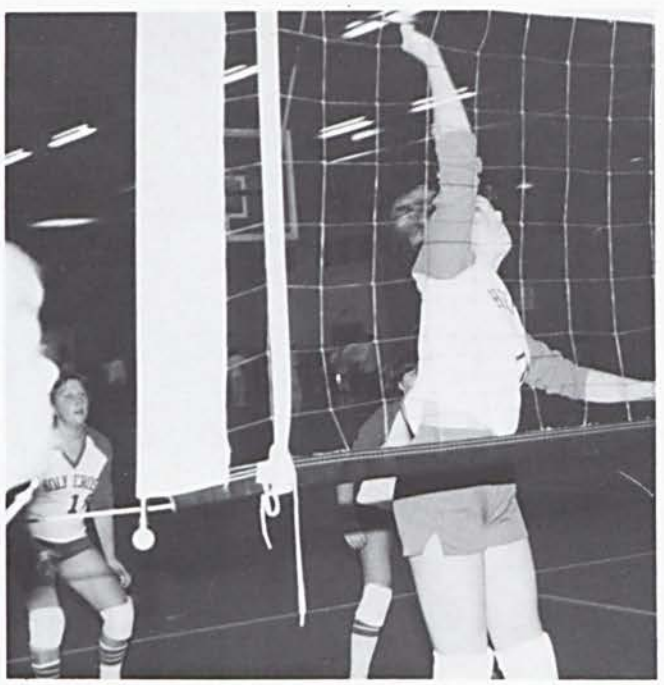
Coach Oscar Najarian's women's tennis team squad got off to a slow start but finished the season on the upswing, posting an 8-4 record in spite of (as co-captain Ellenann Walsh stated) "practicing with dead tennis balls."

Junior Katie Butler provided a solid #1 player, while freshman Eileen White displayed the talent that should make the team a considerable opponent for years to come. Its success was not based on just two players, however, but a total effort which displayed the team's depth. With four seniors graduating, including co-captain Ann Lee Poston, the team's strength should be diminished somewhat, but things look promising indeed for next year's squad.



VOLLEYBALL



The members of the volleyball team demonstrated great dedication this past season, faithfully rising for practice at 6:30 A.M. Despite those draining sessions the team delivered its best record ever (9-10) with a winning mark in its own Div. III.

Co-captains Theresa Moschetta and Barbara Swift (the sole senior) led the squad to the brink of the playoffs. Although that honor will have to wait until next year, the team at least had the satisfaction of knowing it defeated those teams which did make the post-season event.

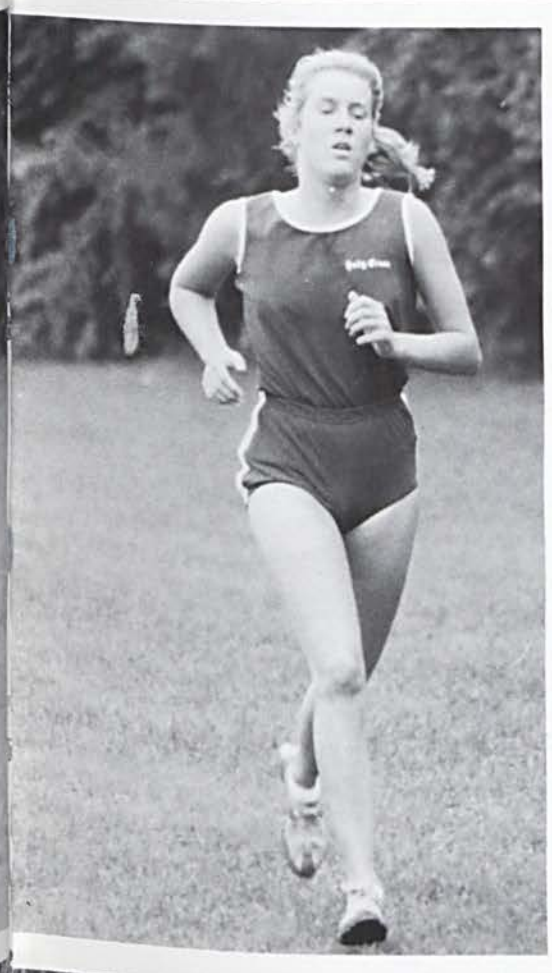
CROSS COUNTRY

It was a tough season for the women's cross country team. Physically tough, that is, as between three and five of the top seven runners struggled with injuries at any given meet. Despite the plethora of muscular ills, the team still eked out a 5-5 record.

Running at 500m (ca. 3 miles) the best performances were usually turned in by freshman Jackie McNiff. Also of note were the strong efforts of Nancy Hayes and Jackie Harth. The ladies dominated the Worcester City meet, besting runners from Worcester based colleges to remain unbeaten in this annual event.

Coach Al Halper looks forward to next year with high hopes as only one senior departs from this year's team. These high hopes should be realized providing injuries take a hiatus.



Front row: Donna McGuirk, Mary Pat Finnegan, Anne Moriarty, Nancy Hayes, Kelly Welch
Second row: Jacqueline Harth, Lisa Simon, Vanessa Egan, Patricia Marrone, Deborah McLaughlin
Third row: Ann Carroll, Maureen Grady, Jacqueline McNiff, Mary Sullivan, Coach Al Harper

A 3-6 record belies the efforts of the Men's Cross Country team. Several harriers performed consistently well throughout the season.

During the regular season fine performances were turned in by Co-Captain Gerry Jones, George Durgin, Bill Doctor and Kevin Hicks. The season's highlight came with the Millrose Games at the Garden (Madison Square) where the 2-mile relay team of Co-Captain Paul Corcoran, Ned Kennedy, Hicks and Doctor posted an impressive 7:47 time.

In post-season competition, Corcoran showed the way with a fourth in the mile at the New England Championships, and by qualifying for the mile at the ICAAAA.

Looking ahead to the future, the team anticipates the return of many of its top performers, including the promising Tom Sassi.

FIELD HOCKEY

Front Row: A. Curtis, C. Ciabotti, K. LaCasse, S. Biggs, F. Daly, K. Lynch, J. Connolly, J. McHugh. Second Row: M. K. Shaughnessy, K. O'Connor, J. Sullivan, M. Sullivan, D. McGovern, M. McGrath, E. Rose, A. M. Lyddy, T. Durkin. Third Row: Mgr. P. Flynn, Coach L. Batbouta, M. Fitzgerald, M. A. McGillicuddy, J. Lightbody, C. O'Connell, A. Lawler, V. Wills, M. Gralton, R. Abbatte, K. Pieroni, D. Hart, G. Kulisch, D. Sullivan, Coach D. LaPriore

It was a resoundingly successful season for the women's field hockey team. Co-captains Susan Biggs and Fran Daly led the team to a 12-4-1 record, with a 3-0-0 mark in tournament play, and sent seven members to the Northeast College All-Star team. First team honors went to Biggs, Janice Connolly, and Debbie McGovern.

The team's rise to prominence began with the arrival of senior standouts Daly, Ciabotti, LaCasse and McHugh, The team's depth, though, should provide an effective buffer against these losses.

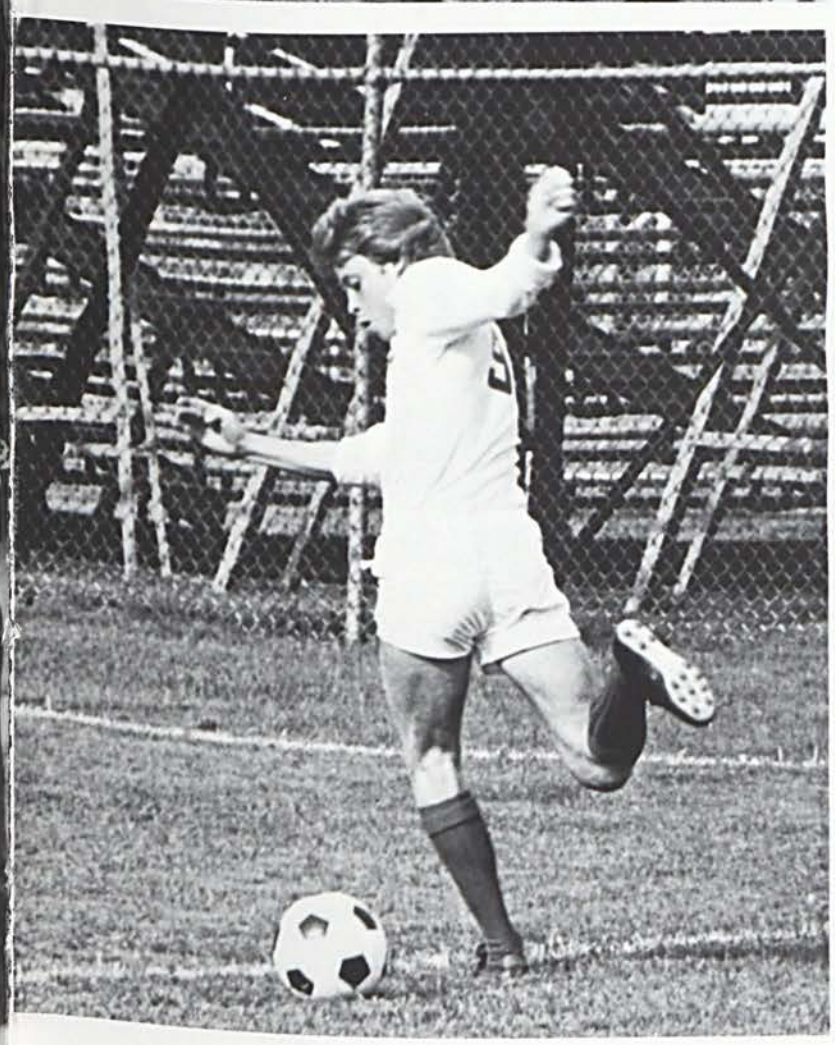
SOCCER



The 1979 fall season, which closed with a record of 5-8-1, was characterized by the conspicuous improvement over last year's fall season (1-14). Second year head coach, Evan Holmes, assisted by Holy Cross graduate Fred Mc Gaughan ('79), has succeeded in developing a solid team with a strong underclassmen nucleus. This year's leading scorer, who was awarded Crusader of the Week, was freshman Dean Casagrande. The MVP was sophomore Ed Gill, who displayed outstanding talent throughout the season. Tim Ripp replaced the injured goalie, Mike Moynihan, and played exceptionally well.

The team worked together indoors throughout the winter and hosted the First Annual Holy Cross Soccer Tournament on March 1, 1980. Another highlight of the winter season was the soccer clinic held on February 24, 1980 at the Fieldhouse and run by professional soccer goalie Shep Messing.

Though they will lose four seniors Tom Madaras, Mike O'Keefe and co-captains John Garrity and Chris Collins, the team looks forward to a successful return season next fall.

Following a 16-10 regular season record, the Crusaders stormed through the ECAC-North playoffs and appeared in the NCAA tournament for the first time since 1977.

The paucity of regular season wins can be attributed largely to three major injuries. Captain Ronnie Perry began the season with considerable pain due to knee surgery he underwent two months earlier. Bob Kelly suffered a severe ankle injury in game sixteen and was able to play only sparingly thereafter. Shortly after Kelly's injury, defensive wiz Leo Kane went down with a pulled hamstring.

In ECAC-North playoff action, the team disposed of three opponents by displaying their best brand of ball. In the NCAA their opponent was Iona, who had dumped the Crusaders and eventual tournament winner Louisville (by 17) earlier in the season. Playing their best game of the season, the team took Iona right down to the wire before capitulating by an 84-78 count.

Although Perry and Kane depart, next year's team promises to be just as exciting, with the spectacularly consistent Garry Witts and slam-jammin' Ernie Floyd leading the returnees.

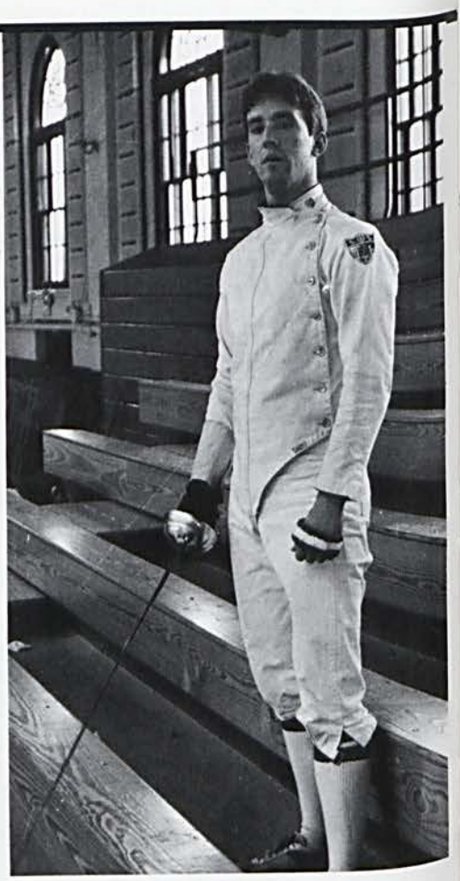
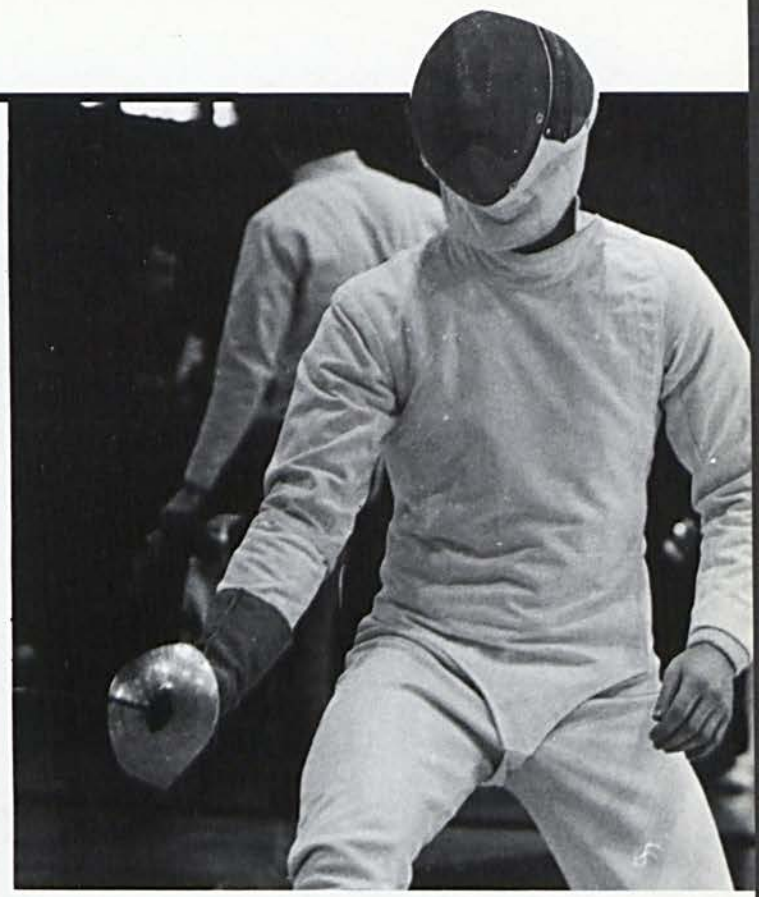
FENCING





The fencing team finished its strongest season in six years this fall with a record of 2-5. Third year coach (of epee and foil fencers) Bob Woolner is responsible for taking the team out of nowhere to win third place overall in the New England finals for epee fencing.

The team grew from sixteen the previous year to twenty-six and established the first junior varsity women's fencing team at Holy Cross.

Since most of the team's best fencers are slated to return next year, the team is looking forward to a prosperous season. In the words of coach Woolner there will be "no more games," if not a tad of plagiarism.

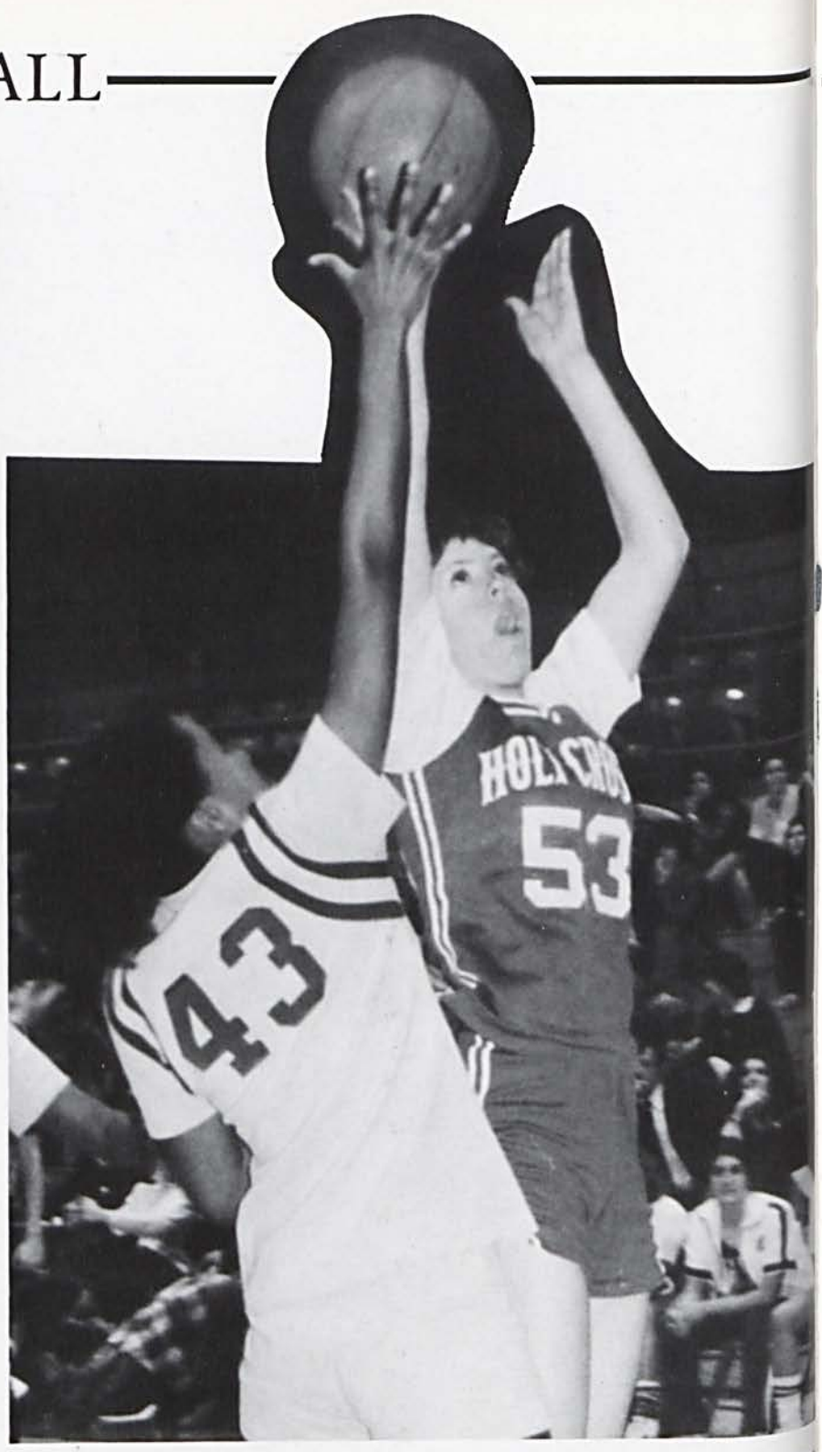
WOMEN'S BASKETBALL



Posting a 9-12 record was no mean feat for this season's women's basketball team which had to win seven of its last nine to reach that plateau. The season started off on a low note as center Cindy Boiardi and sixth player Katie O'Connor suffered injuries. Boiardi later returned, but O'Conner was lost for the season. At mid-season Coach Kevin McCauley jumped ship in favor of assistant Sandi Gentile who led the squad to its late season renaissance.

Margaret Dempsey led the team on offense with strong help from pure-shootinguard Ann Dooley. Freshman Mary Fitzgerald provided back-court speed while strong, agressive performances were turned in by Kathie Flacke, Teresa Opalacz and Lori Geishecker.

Next season holds great promise as the program will be strengthened by the addition of two scholarship players, a switch to Div. II, and the tutelage of new head coach Togo Palazzi.

The Hockey team posted an excellent 20-8 regular season record and topped it all off with some stupendous play in the ECAC playoffs.

Although Coach Peter Van Buskirk took over the team just prior to the start of the season, the results were fantastic. Tri-Captains Larry Kennedy, Billy Fitzgerald and Bobby Shea led the team to new school records for most wins overall and consecutively.

All-American Gerry Curley was the most prominent member on a team whose hallmark was balance. The squad boasted no fewer than fifteen players who netted twenty or more points. The team seems set for a strong effort next season as only four seniors depart.

HC

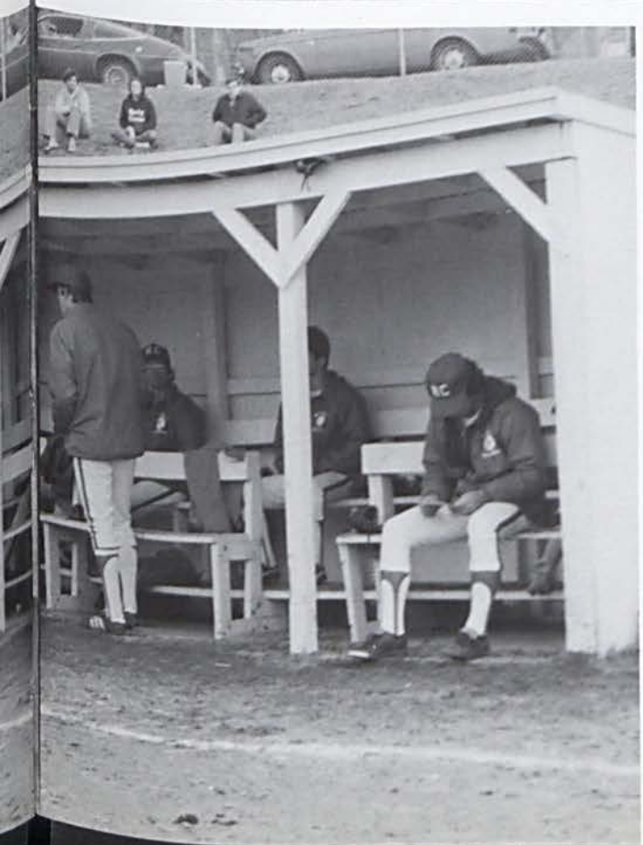
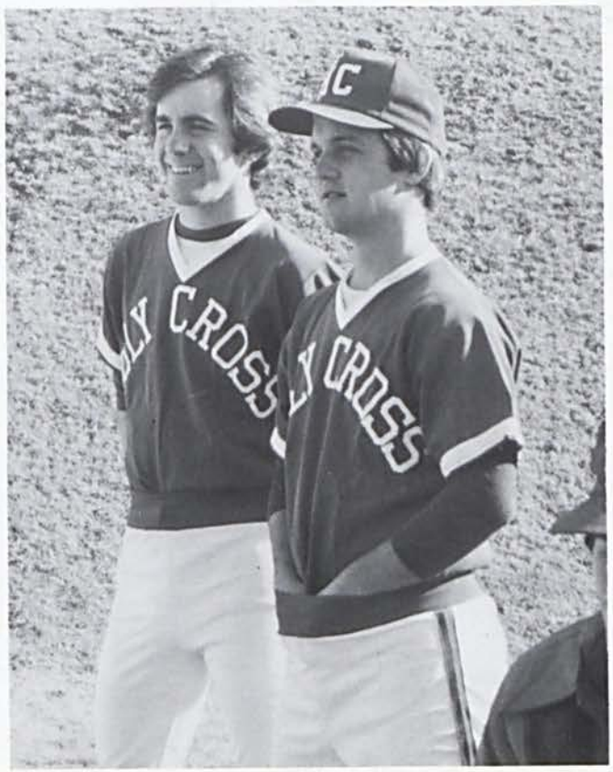
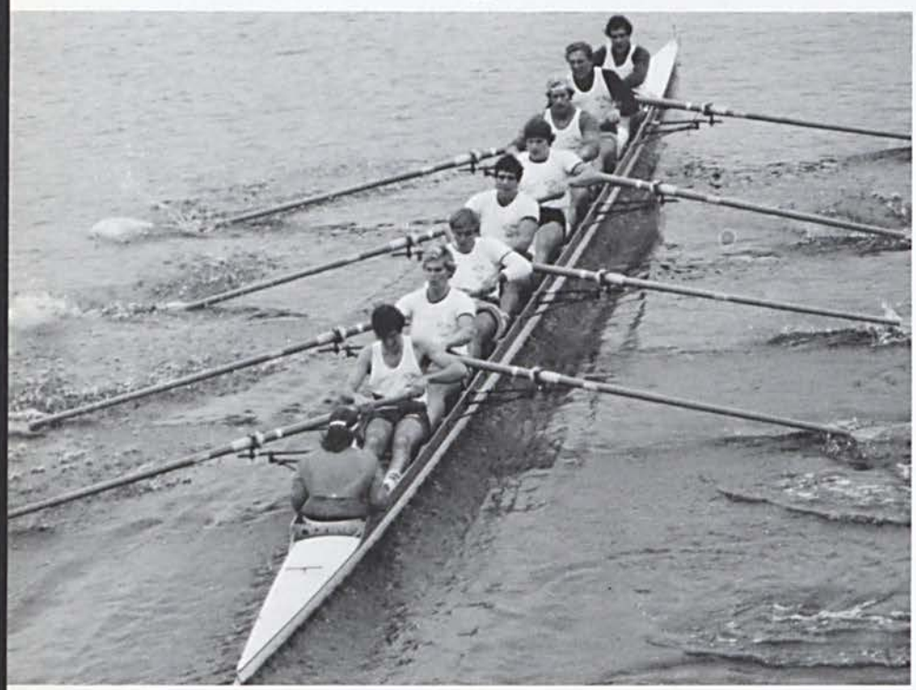
Coach John Whalen's Baseball team had an excellent 20-7-1 record in the regular season to clinch a berth in the ECAC playoffs.

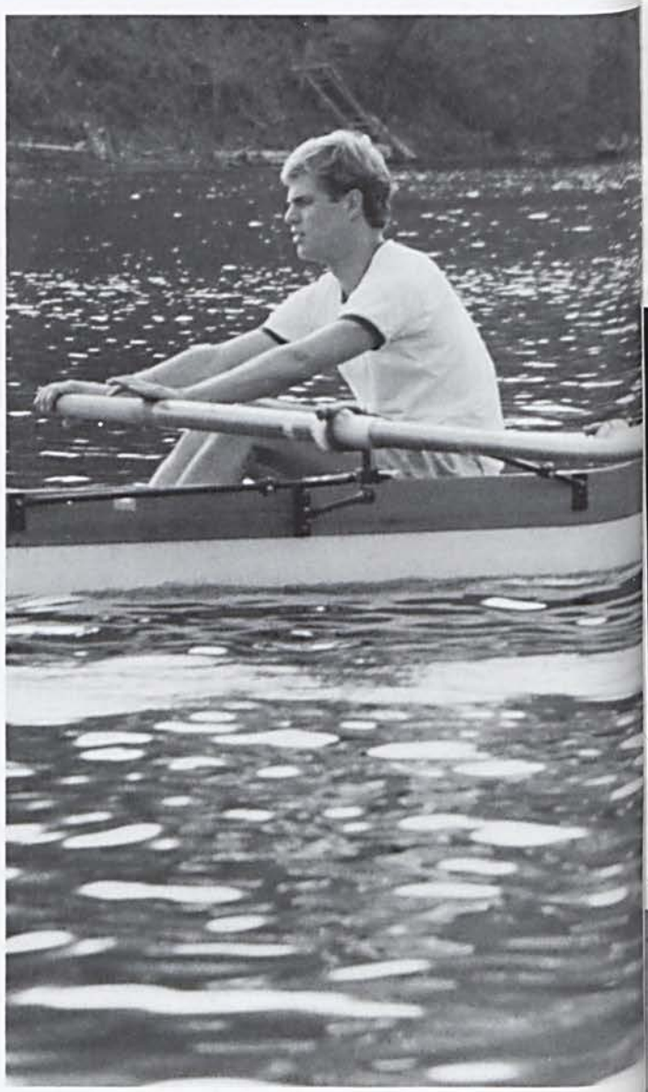
The team was led by tri-captains Ron Perry, Ted Rockwell and Neil Solomon, Perry set an all-time New England total hit mark, while Rockwell and Solomon were stalwarts of the pitching staff. Neil and Rick Daigneault led the team's potent offensive assault. Next year's team should showcase the talents of Joe LeMay, Mark Young, Jim Irzyk and Dave Stenhouse.





MEN'S CREW





The men's crew team had a very good season, one which vastly improved on that of the year before. Tri-captains John Dagher, Tim Sherry, and Rich Watson saw their team's heavyweight boat finish a strong fourth in the Head of the Charles Meet. Just as encouraging was the first place showing of the lightweight fours in the Frostbite, and the "place" posted by the team in the Dad Vails petite finals. Next year's squad should be highly competitive as this year's freshmen, who lost only two races all spring season, move up to replace the seven departing seniors.

WOMEN'S LACROSSE

The women's LaCrosse team went undefeated in season play, becoming the first Holy Cross varsity sport to do so since 1935. Co-Captained by Anne Regan and Cindy Boiardi, the team finished 10-0. Much practice, pulling for one another, and good ol' grit-your-teeth zeal produced their remarkable success.

Both coaches were in their first year, but their veteran-like ability to relate to the girls realized the group's potential. A balanced attack and defense were the squad's hallmarks. The Division II team was seeded number one in the Dartmouth Tournament, where they justified that ranking by dumping both the University of Vermont and Smith.

MEN'S TENNIS

The Holy Cross tennis team's 1-7 record is not indicative of the wealth of individual talent on the team. Coached by Oscar Najarian and captained by seniors Tom Murray and Brian Sarr, the team played many strong matches, several of them against schools which allocate tennis scholarships. The team's tough schedule was further complicated by the very short season (April 3 - May 1), broken up by the Easter break. At one point in the season, the team played five matches in seven days, ending with Tufts, one of the strongest teams in New England. With the loss of the senior co-captains, the team looks to sophomores Paul Gagne, Jim Casey, and Steve Coleman, and freshman Larry Eagan to lead H.C. tennis next year.

WOMEN'S CREW

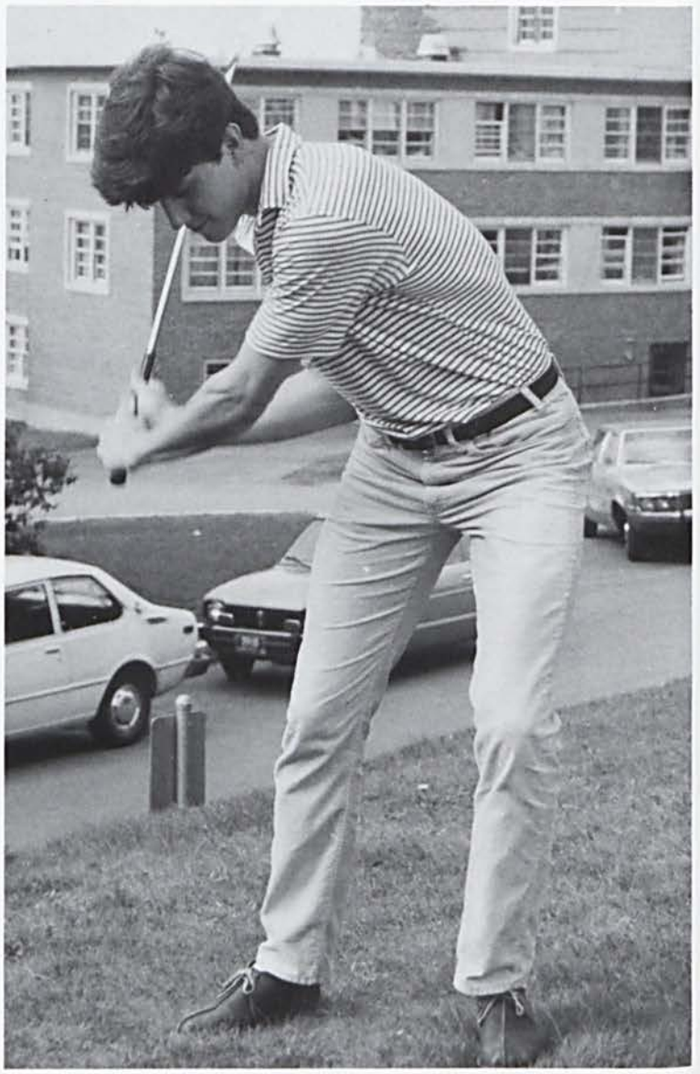
The women's crew team struggled through a rebuilding season. Their lack of meet success was certainly no reflection of their dedication. The team practiced daily at Lake Quinsigamond, nautilized twice a week, and ran at least three of every seven days. Their varsity 8, 4, and novice 4 teams took on such powerhouses as Rhode Island, New Hampshire, and Connecticut College. Compounding the demands of their rigorous schedule was the fact that only three team members had more than one year's rowing experience. Co-captains Liz Griffin and Pam Keresey look forward to a more experienced squad next year, as only four seniors depart.

GOLF



The golf team holed out a 3-7-1 record this season, highlighted by a fine showing in the NCAA New England Tournament where they finished ninth.

Co-captains Mark Wernig and Rick Cavanaugh were joined by fellow seniors Joe Quinn and Peter Harrington to form the nucleus of the squad. Fine seasons were also turned in by Tim Bibaud and Pat Connors. Quinn posted the lowest stroke average, while Harrington placed seventh in the overall individual competition at the NCAA tournament. Next year's team looks forward to giving more playing time to outstanding frosh Jim O'Keefe and sophomore John Mastrotaro.

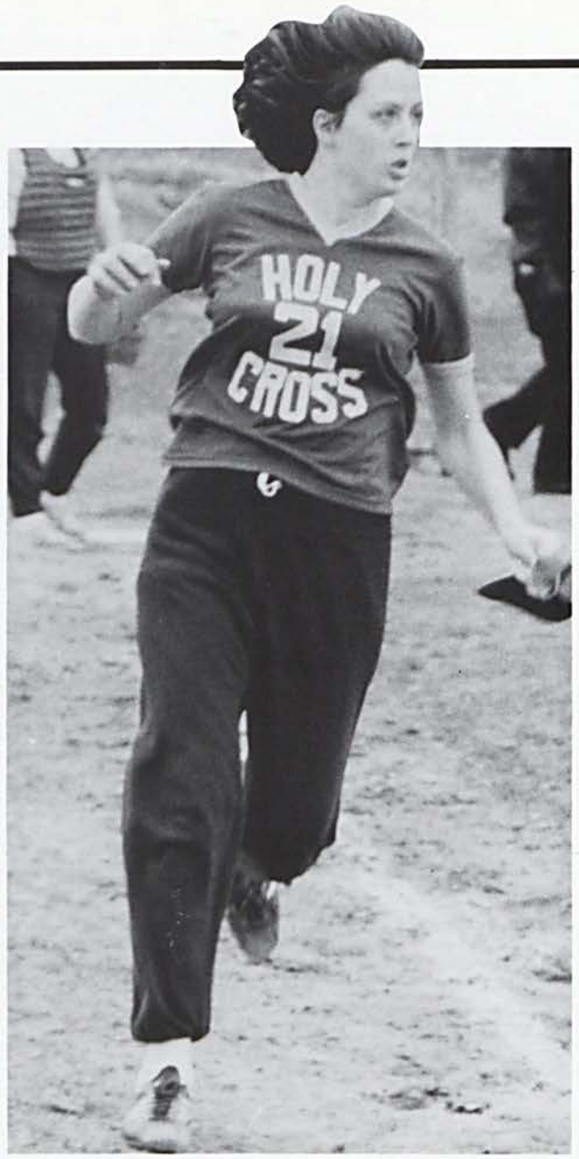
SOFTBALL



The women's softball team finished 5-5 this season, a record which does not reflect the quality of their performance. The squad faced tough competition as an "experimental varsity" team which competed against varsity teams. The team was a young one with Barbara Swift being the sole senior and captain. Mary Cunningham pitched all games, while Mary Fitzgerald did a fine job at shortstop.

The team fared quite well under the tutelage of Sandy Gentile, an excellent first-year coach. One of the team's major victories was that over Framingham State (3-2), a surprise for both teams. The team also displayed fine softball skills when they just missed upsetting Stonehill, being defeated only in the bottom of the seventh inning. The future looks promising for this developing team, as they look forward to further competition on the varsity level.

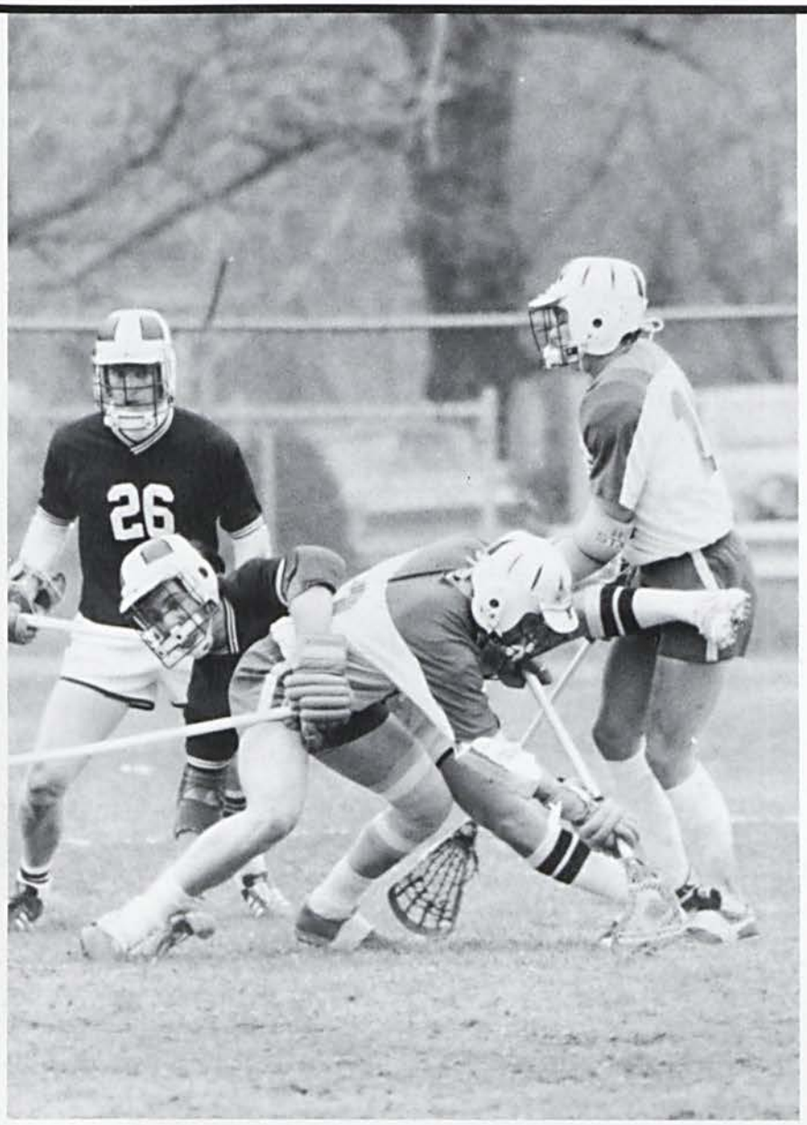
RUGBY

A spring/fall record of 14-7-1, numerous police raids, arrests, and eviction notices for the Rugby House can attest to one fact — another successful season for the H.C. ruggers. "This season," claims president Steve Bracken, "proved once again that Holy Cross rugby is the finest in insanity on and off the field." With the close of the 1979-80 season, Holy Cross said good-bye to an era here at Mount St. James. A nucleus of ten or so ruggers, who have given blood for eight seasons, played their last game on May 3rd against a "stacked" Old Purple squad. These seniors will be sorely missed next season.

Highlights of the past season include the Eastern Collegiate Championship in Virginia ("the best road trip ever"), the 8-1 fall season, and the 18-0 victory over Old Purple. The team also won the 2nd Annual Holy Cross Invitational Tournament over Providence and Iona.

Vice President Peter Gilmore exemplified the H.C. rugby experience when he said, "The rumor that I'm the heaviest drinker on the rugby team is just idle gossip spread by people I've stumbled over."

MEN'S LACROSSE



The men's LaCrosse team finished their season with a 5-9 record. Tri-captained by John Garrity, Jack Ross, and John Jachowicz, the team's strength lay in its defense. The most goals were scored by Jachowicz, who wound up with 37 points, while John Roe, Bucko O'Rourke, and Ross were defensive standouts. Garrett Spillane held the title of "Founder of the Father Reidy Group."

The team posted big wins over Merrimack (defending Masters Trophy champions), and powerful Providence. "Sputro" Larkin and Marty Coursey were MVPs of the Worcester Tournament and Merrimack game, respectively.

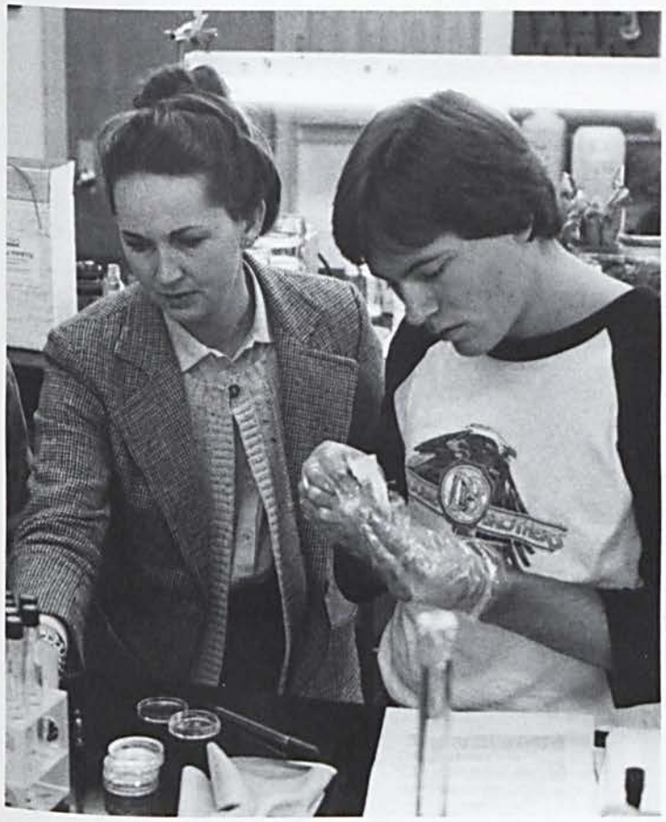
BIOLOGY

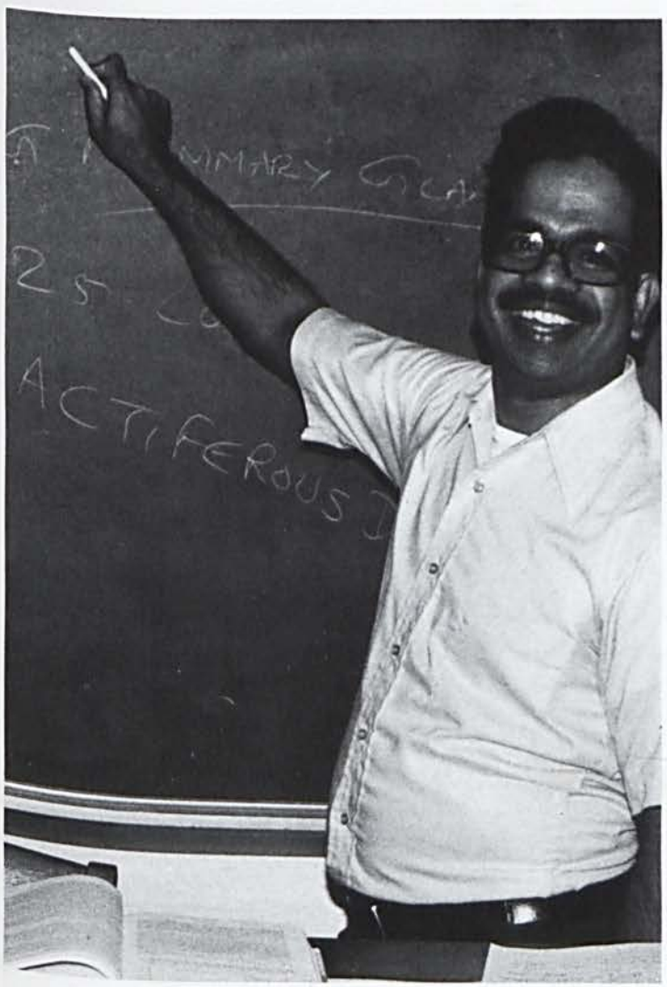
Wayne W. Carley

Peter P. Parsons



Jacqueline V. Wyland

William R. Healy



Kornath Madhaven

The biology department has been in transition over the past few years but now offers a number of young, vigorous staff members. It also boasts a considerable amount of modern equipment which is made available to both students and professors. The close rapport which exists between the students and their instructors can be attributed to the many hours they spend working together in the lab. You remember lab, it's where you spend nine hours working on something that doesn't turn out the way it's supposed to turn out.

CHEMISTRY

Frank Vellaccio

The chemistry department is one of the most outgoing departments on campus. But where are they going out to? Well, there's the annual spring banquet and roast, a Christmas dinner and skating parties during the year. Fine student and faculty turnouts have helped foster a sense of community. The department is the third largest undergraduate chemistry department in New England. The students put on magic shows for local elementary schools and participate in approximately twenty-five research programs.

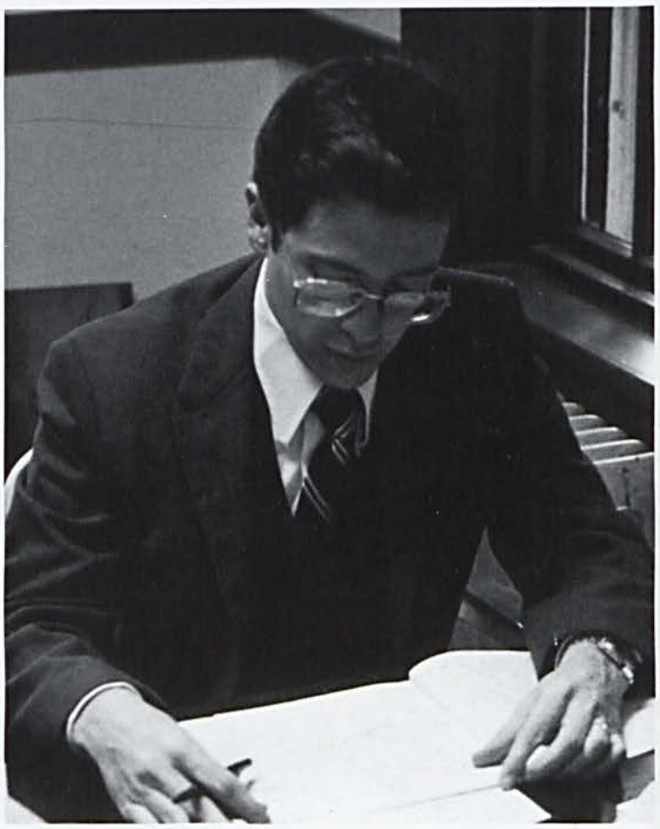
Rev. William H. Fitzgerald, S.J.

Blaise Nagy

Classics affords the student an opportunity to study the Greek and Roman sources of Western culture while at the same time contributes to the student's cultural development. The Classics field surveys Greek and Roman history, mythology, archaeology and mythology. It concentrates on the impact of ancient politics and religion. An indepth study of Greek and Latin allows the student the satisfaction of reading and interpreting the literature of the past.

ECONOMICS

William J. Ziobro



Nicolas Sanchez

Stephen T. Kelly

The economics-accounting department is concerned with preparing students to be political individuals in the economy. Through this course of study one is better prepared to evaluate economic policy. It may be that the department prepares one with a heavy emphasis on theory and less on a practical scale, but one is certainly better off for having been involved in the program. This point is confirmed by the students themselves. Their interest in economics has made it one of the college's fastest growing departments.

The English department uses the study of literary works of the imagination to sharpen the analytical skills of the student while simultaneously deepening the student's appreciation of man and the human condition. The department achieves its goals through its course offerings, tutorials, seminars and lecture courses on special topics. In contrast to the national trend, the department finds that its number of majors is steadily increasing.

FINE ARTS

Rev. John Reboli, S.J.

Shirish Korde

Joan Italiano

James Monson

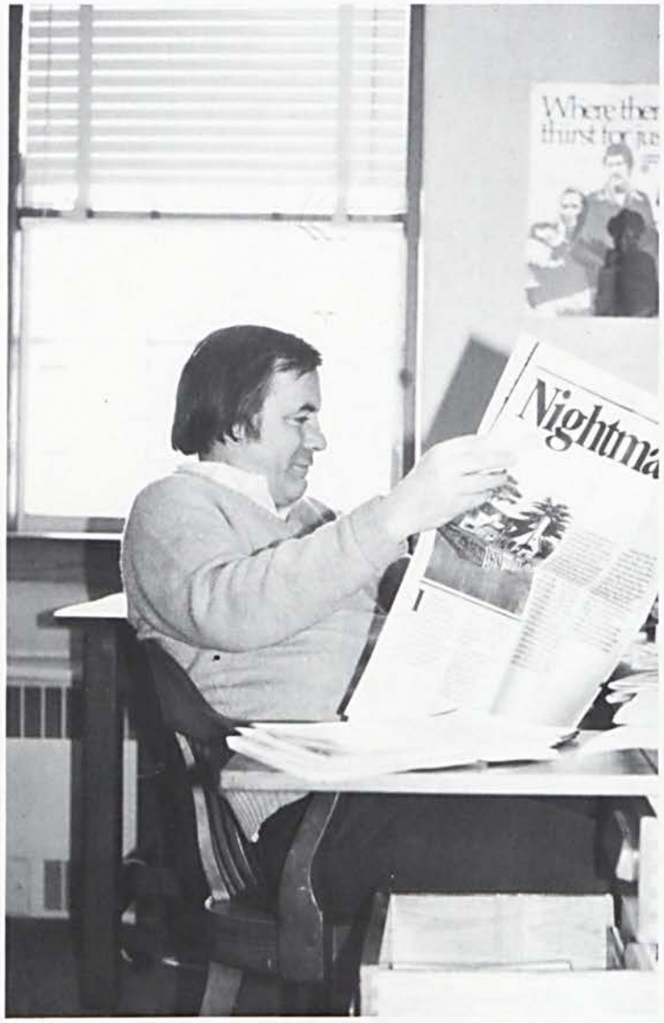
Rev. Joseph Scannell, S.J.

Terri Priest

Gerard Quigley, S.J.

Fine Arts plays a unique role in a liberal arts education by fulfilling the student's need for a sensitivity to the arts. Rather than preparing a student for a professional career in the arts, the fine arts programs are geared towards refining the student's powers of critical analysis and contributes to the student's creative endeavors. The student is exposed to the theory and history of music while his understanding of himself and others is enhanced through participation in the theatre arts.

HISTORY



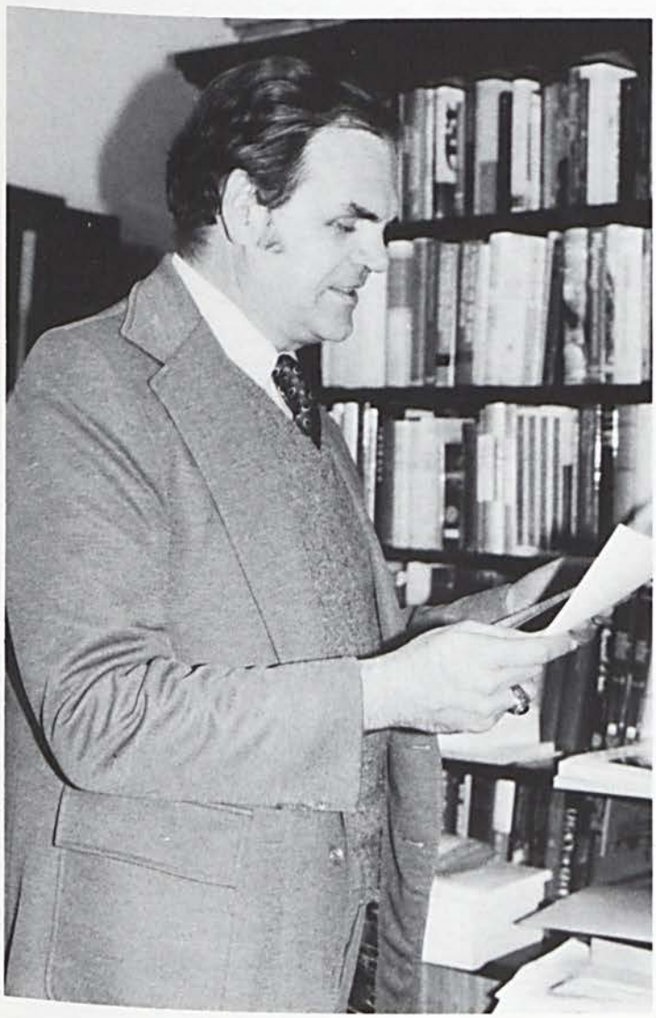
David J. O'Brien

John B. Anderson

Theresa McBride

Edward F. Wall

William A. Green



James F. Powers

Rev. Vincent A. Lapomarda, S.J.

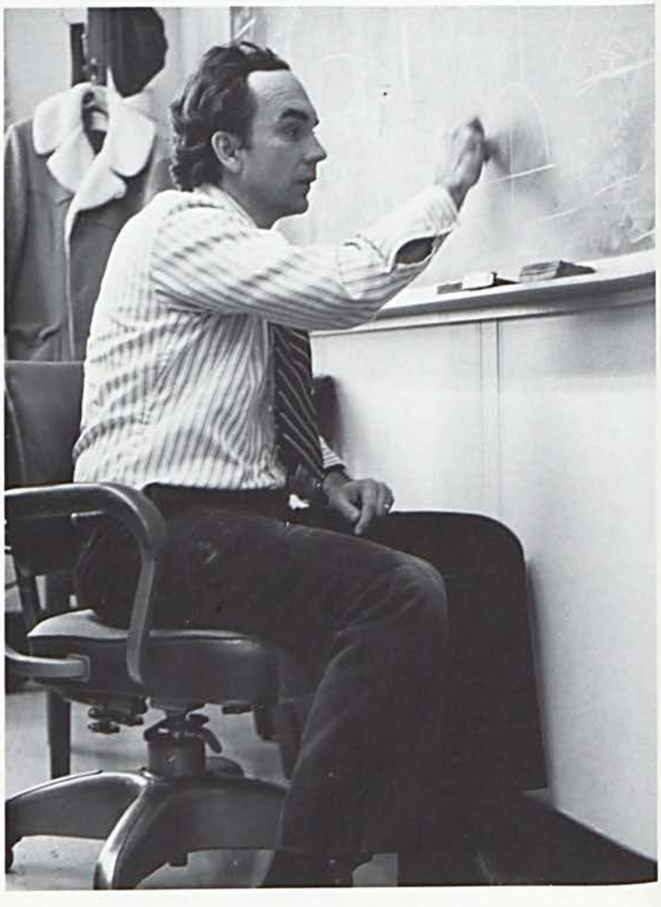
History is perhaps the premier liberal arts discipline in that it encompasses all the others. Historians are required to be part sociologist, economist, anthropologist, philosopher, and linguist. Its study presents one with a sense of place in the evolution of humankind. By studying other lives and lifestyles we find why we are and where we are. The department provides the advantage of a wide sweep with a variety of emphases appealing to any reasonably curious person.

MATHEMATICS

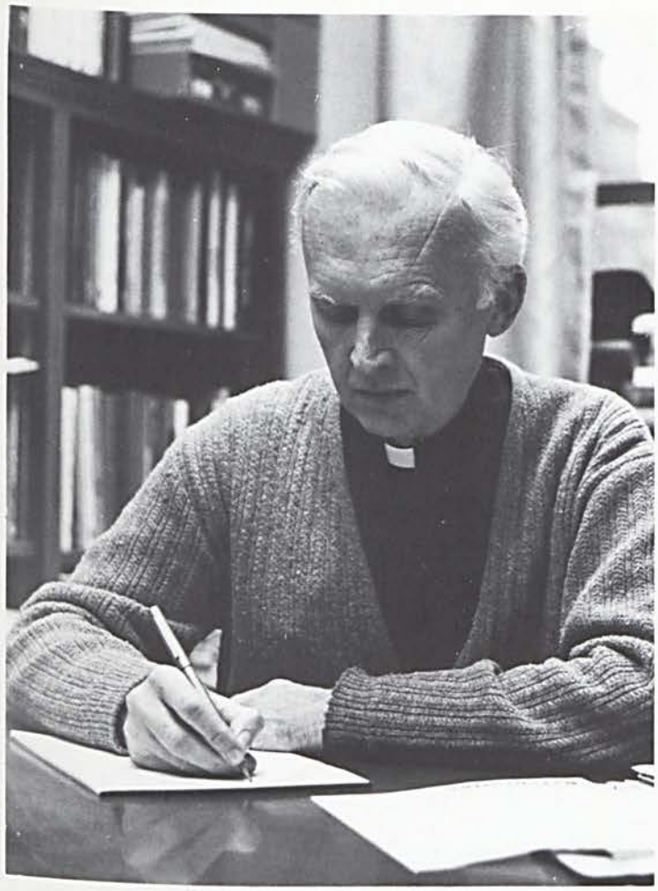
Norrece T. Jones, Jr.

Edward J. Kealey

Leonard C. Sulski



Thomas E. Cecil



Rev. John J. MacDonnell, S.J.

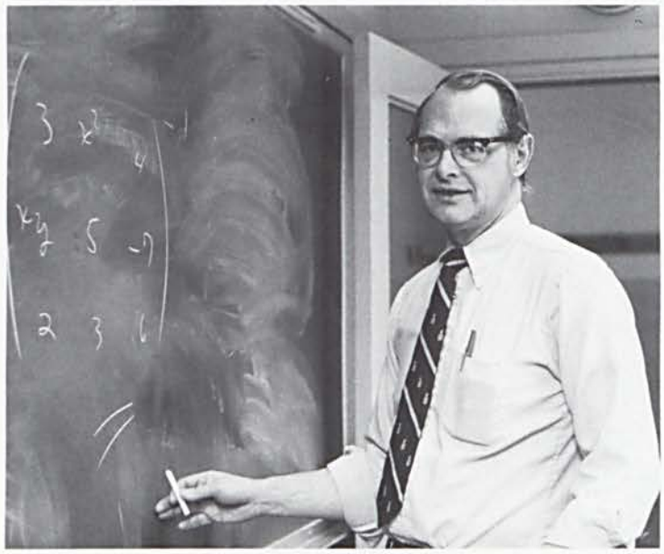
Melvin Tews

John R. McCarthy

Math is not only a science, it is also a language. In addition, this discipline almost becomes an art when applied to problems without relation to the "real" world. All these levels of math are what students find themselves exposed to in each of the department's offerings. Math extends beyond the boundaries of Haberlin 3 to become significant by its application in physics, economics and the social sciences.

MODERN LANGUAGES

Peter Perkins



Daniel G. Dewey

Patrick Shanahan

Charles A. Baker

Mastering a language enriches the intellectual and aesthetic development of the student. Through a study of foreign languages and cultures, the student is more equipped to communicate and understand others, especially those of different cultural backgrounds. A combination of classroom work and listening material makes the student more responsive to literature and more concerned with values, in light of various foreign cultures.

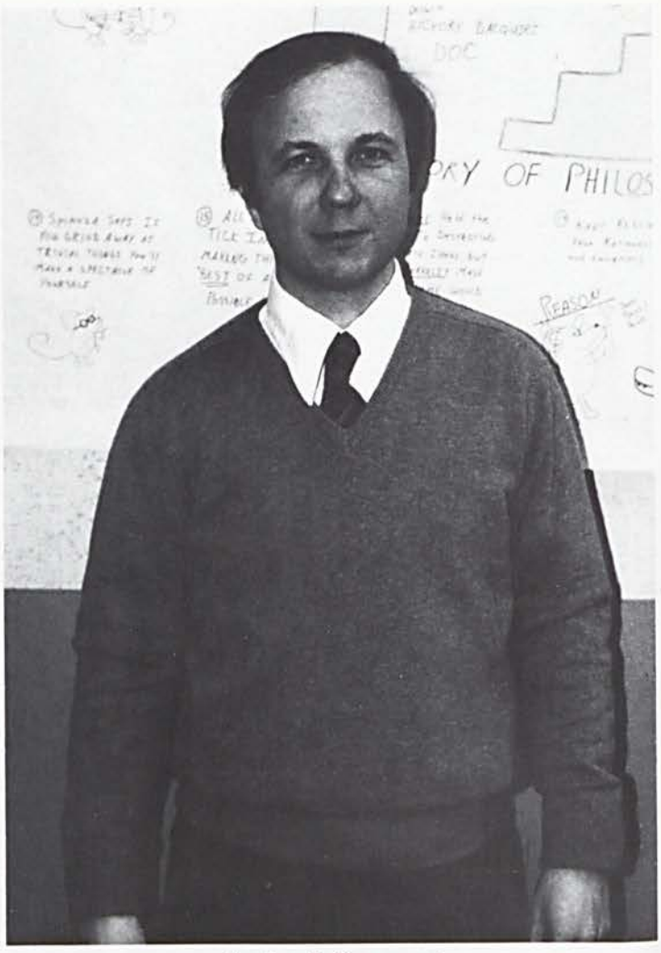
PHILOSOPHY

Hermann J. Cloeren

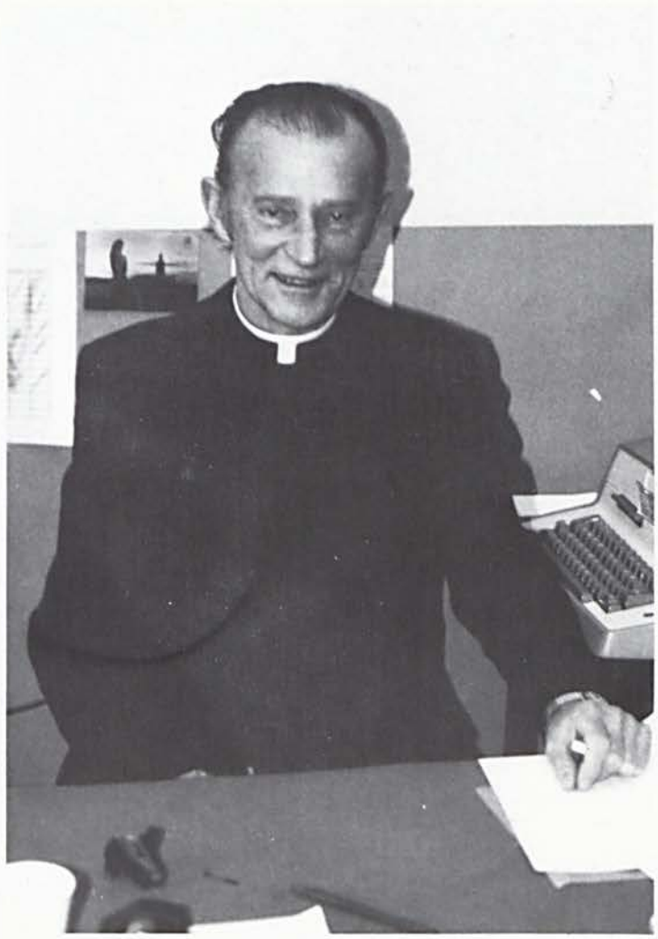


Stephen S. Skousgaard

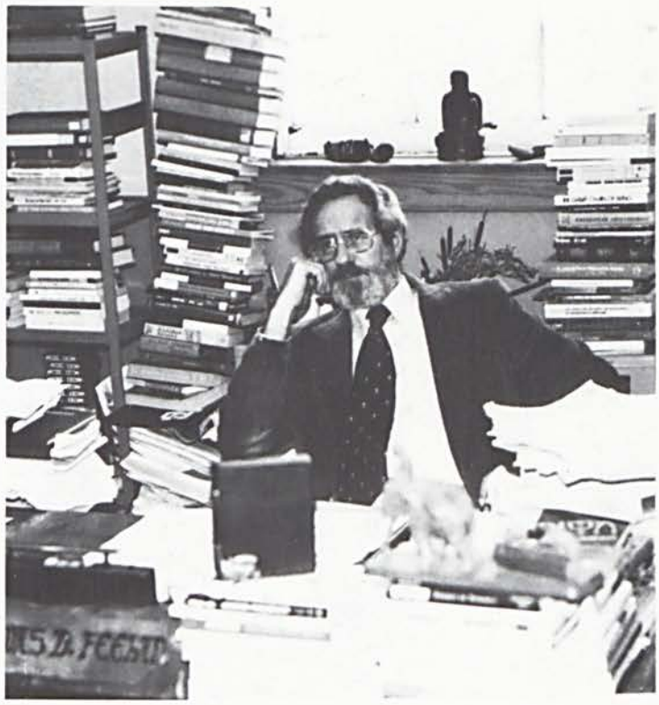
George H. Hampsch

John J. Lynch

Because of its pluralistic outlook, its rich curricular offerings, and its teaching expertise, the philosophy department is highly acclaimed. The faculty's divergent views regarding philosophical problems and methodology make for an interesting academic experience for both philosphy majors and those non-majors bold enough to venture into this realm. Aside from lively intra-class debates, several colloquia on philosophical problems are offered each semester.



Rev. Francis F. Callahan, S.J.

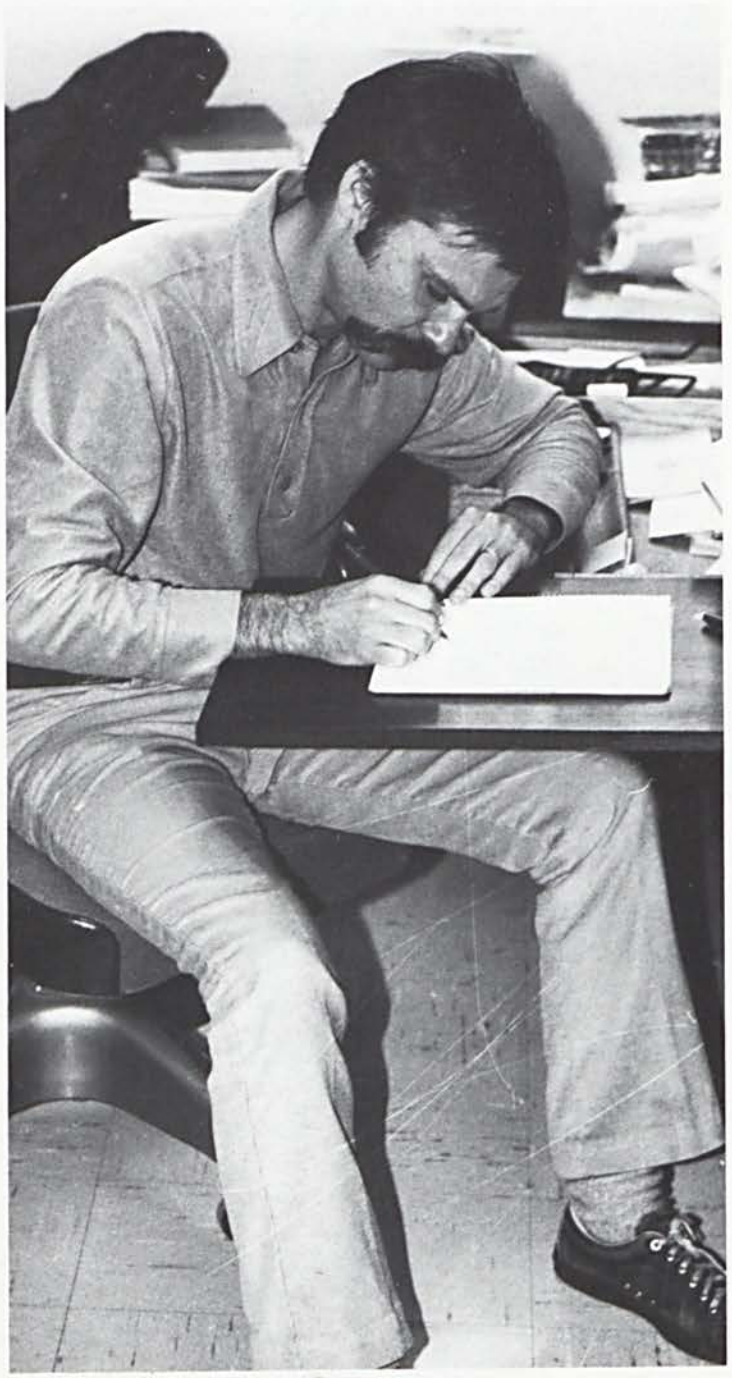


Thomas D. Feehan

PHYSICS

Clyde Pax

Frederick C. Herx



Robert H. Garvey

The physics department was one of the first departments in the sciences to offer a variety of courses for non-majors. Courses such as Meteorology, Earth-Science, Astrology and non-major physics have become popular and have succeeded in introducing many students to an area which might otherwise have remained foreign to them. The department offers students a tremendous opportunity to work independently, and the 9:1 student (majors) to professor ratio is one reason why special undergraduate research projects have been so successful.

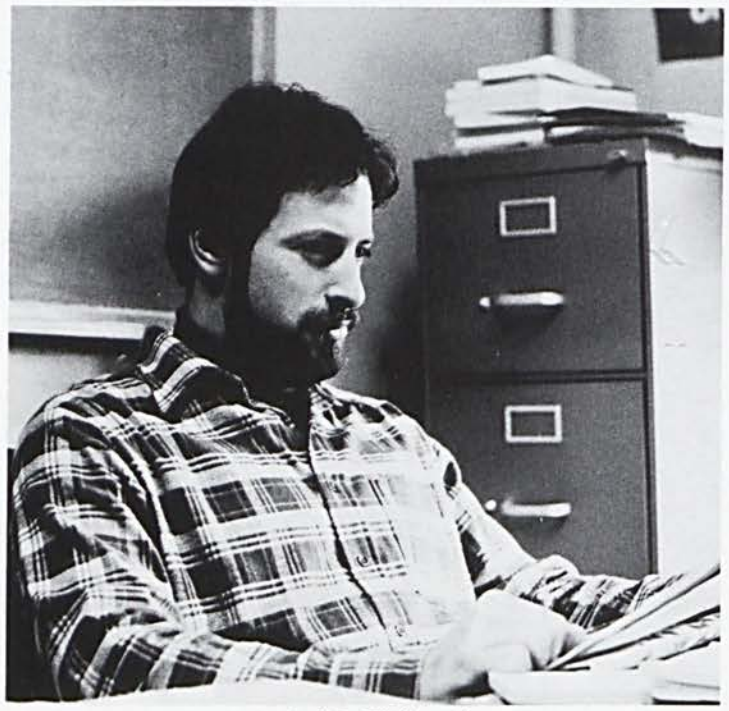
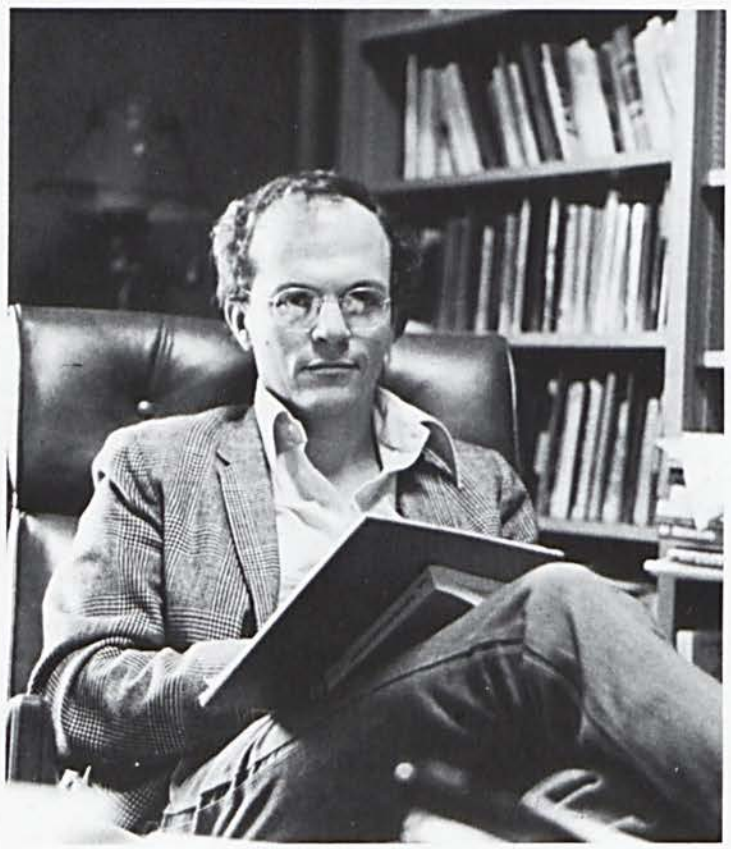
POLITICAL SCIENCE



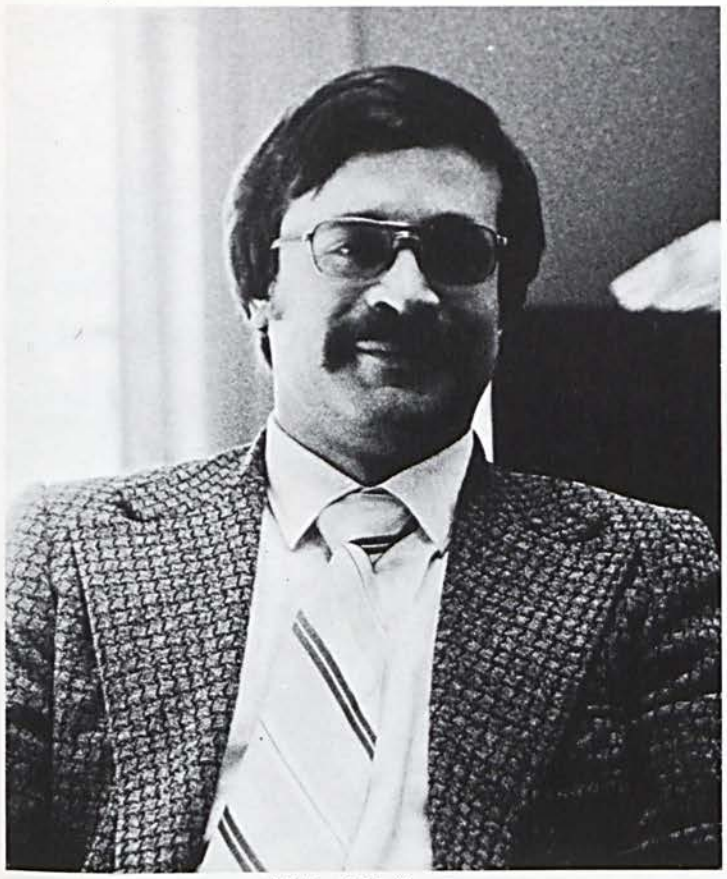
Mitchel B. Wallerstein

Walter T. Odell

Trowbridge H. Ford



Stephen A. Quick



Michael M. Spencer

Judith A. Chubb

Caren G. Dubnoff

The political science department is an active, dynamic group of people which is very concerned with teaching. In addition to instructing how the government operates, the department strongly encourages field experience. As a result, many political science majors take internships with agencies of state government or lobby groups, while those planning legal careers work in law offices. The department sponsors a number of colloquia in which students who have attended international conferences report their experiences.

David L. Schaefer

Evelyne H. Stephens

PSYCHOLOGY

Louis A. Sass

The aim of the psychology department is to understand behavior, be it animal or human, normal or abnormal. Students take courses in methodology and "content" courses which study the theories inherent in the subject. This is supplemented by practical work in field experience and individual research projects. It is a growing department in terms of faculty, facilities and student interest. It is also a department which bridges the natural and social sciences.

RELIGIOUS STUDIES

Glendon E. Bryce

John Esposito

The field of religious studies is a multi-dimensional one which offers the student an opportunity to learn and understand religious tradition and its relevance in the spectrum of human existence. While providing the student with a context for the study of the human in history, the department also establishes a foundation allowing the student to come to terms with himself. Involved in this field of study is an exploration of the biblical, theological and historical aspects of religion. Allowing the student to perceive the cultural impact of religion as well as the behavioral implications of religious values is one of the department's prime concerns.

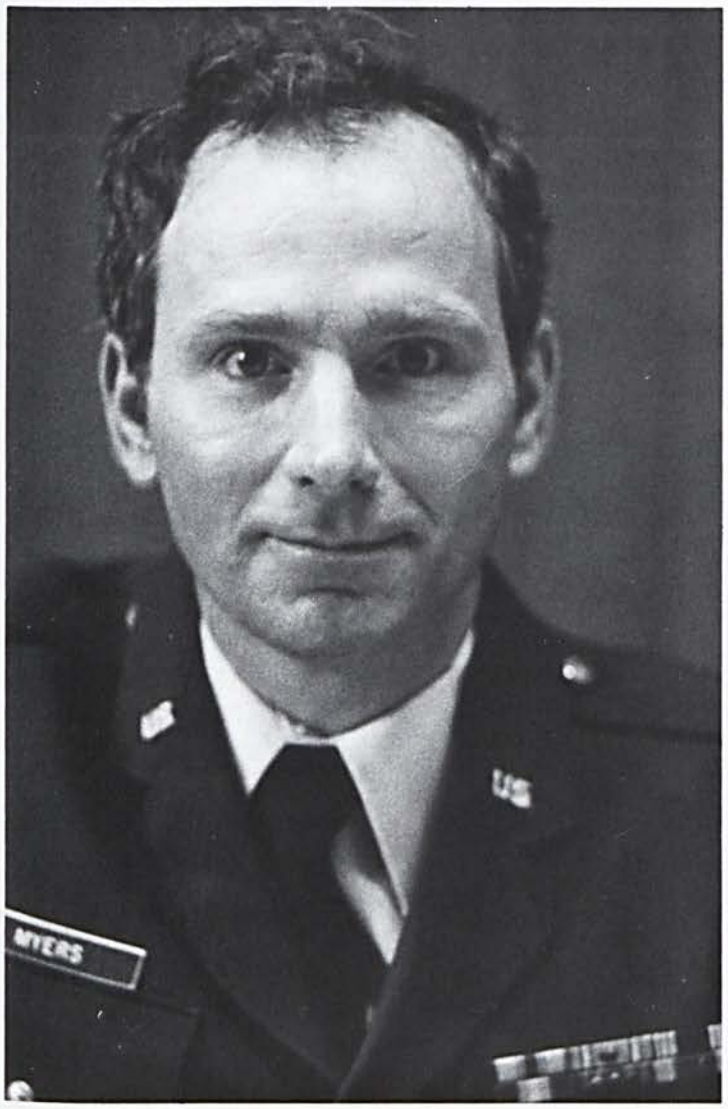
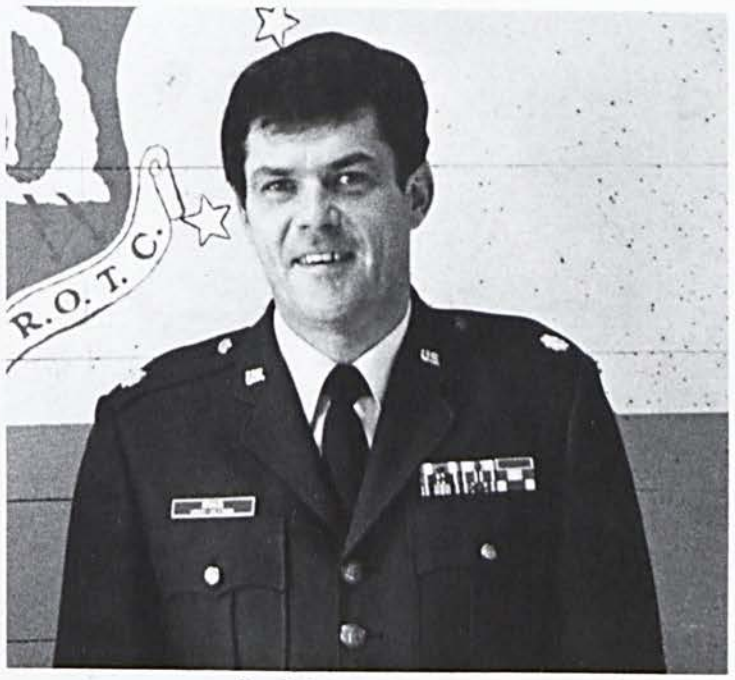
LCDR Harvey J. Gannon

QM1 Willie E. Helms

Major Patrick L. Townsend



Capt. Francis C. Myers



Lt. Col. Ronald J. Kraus

Major Michael Rangel

The ROTC programs at Holy Cross (Air Force and Navy) are primarily concerned with informing their students as to national military policy in the current world situation. Both programs offer scholarships to qualifying students and have organizations involved with social work in the surrounding community. Despite the hue and cry against the draft, both programs find their course offerings immensely popular, especially among athletes, seniors and those with a disdain for the library stacks.

SOCIOLOGY

Suzanne Rinaldo

Edward Thompson

Rev. Robert G. McMillan, S.J.

The sociology department is a young department with a strong student orientation. Its primary concern is developing a curriculum that will give students both a strong base in the sociological perspective and an opportunity to deal with concrete sociological problems in areas of career interest. The department offers a number of courses for non-majors with a special emphasis on those who are interested in community service.

Volume LXXII of the College of the Holy Cross Purple Patcher was printed by Josten's American Yearbook Company in State College, Pennsylvania.

Paper stock is 100 pound Consolidated high gloss double-coated enamel.

Endsheet stock is Champion 65 pound stainless steel text cover weight. The design applied to the front was created by Mary Curran of the College of the Holy Cross, and was prepared by Debbie Concepcion of the State College facility's Creative Services Department. It is printed in PMS #527.

The cover is purple kivar material. The grain texture is cordova, and a silver metalay application has been covered with a PMS process black overtone rub.

Although various typefaces were used throughout the book, the basic type comes from the Garamond family. Body copy is 12 pt., and cutlines are set in 3 pt. Division page headlines are of the American Text Style.

All black and white photography was processed by Adams Studio of Fitchburg, Massachusetts. The individual portrait work was also done by Adams Studios. All color photography was processed by New England Color Laboratory, Inc., of Lynn, Massachusetts.

The majority of the photographs were taken by the Purple Patcher staff. Other photography credits go to the Worcester Telegram and Gazette, Inc., for p. 109; John Neister of Josten's American for pp. 1, 3, 5, 6, 7, 14, 16, 17, 18, 19, 48, 126, 127, 166, 172, 173, 174, 175, 290, 291, 374, 375, 382, 383; Bill Rynders for pp. 136, 137; Lydia Dafonte for p. 42; Sue Biggs for p. 43; Dave Garrity for pp. 110, 111; Tommy Ryan for p. 7; and Alice O'Connor for p. 99.

Other thanks are extended to Peter Simonds, faculty advisor, to the Student Activities Office, to the Public Affairs Office, and to Tommy Ryan for sanity-saving advice. Thanks also to Bethie Molloy and MaryBeth Vargus, to Nancy Bixler for her house, to Dave LaPointe for his typewriter, to Mary Curran who is responsible for all the artwork in this publication, and to Tommy and Billy for wisecracks and moral support. A hearty thank you goes to Barry Woolf, the new Josten's representative, for a smooth and easy transition.

And to all others who helped in any way to put the Patcher together, a sincere thanks is offered (along with a humble apology for having left out your names).

The 1980 Purple Patcher had a press run of 1500 copies. Distribution began during the month of September, 1980. Amen.
